U.S. Bombs Vital Red Pass Again

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets renewed their assaults on the approach to North Viet Nam's strategic Mu Gia Pass after thousands of coolies laboring day and night reopened the landslide-clogged funnel to the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a U.S. spokesman reported today.

Only eight days ago eight-engine U.S. B52s dropped 700 tons of explosives on the winding mountain route on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi in the Strategic Air Command's first strike against North Viet Nam.

The U.S. spokesman reported that smaller fighter-bombers were sent back to the pass Wednesday after reconnaissance showed that Communist labor battalions had gotten traffic moving again through the pass. He said some traffic was still moving on Route 15, which follows the pass into neighboring Laos and links up with southbound infiltration routes.

The spokesman said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantoms tore into the highway at three locations leaving huge craters.

For the first time in days, Vietnamese troops were reported in a hard fight with the Communists. Elements of government airborne and Ranger battalions killed 20 Viet Cong and captured a large store of weapons when they jumped a red battalion 8 miles northwest of Quang Ngai City, on the northern coast, U.S. officers reported.

With South Viet Nam's generals preoccupied with political problems, operations against the Viet Cong by government troops have fallen off considerably.

However, U.S. combat casualties continued at the usual level and South Vietnamese casualties rose again after dropping below those of the Americans for the first time in the war.

The U.S. military command announced that 89 Americans were killed, 635 wounded and five missing in action last week. Ninety-five Americans were killed, 501 wounded and four missing the week before.

The new figures raised American dead to 2,594 and wounded to 15,863 in the Viet Nam war since January 1961.

The Vietnamese command reported 141 of its troops were killed and 52 missing last week compared with 67 killed and 204 missing in the week of April 3-9. Wounded figures are not announced.

Midsection Still Battered By Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms continued across broad areas of the nation's midsection today after Wednesday's outbreak of violent weather which included small tornadoes, high winds, hail and heavy rain.

The twisters and severe thunderstorms struck areas from Arkansas and Mississippi to Illinois and Indiana. No serious injuries were reported and property damage was not extensive.

Thunderstorms continued during the early morning along a belt from eastern Michigan to southeastern Texas. In Upper Michigan rain changed to snow as cold air spread across the northern Midwest. One inch of snow fell at Houghton.

Tornadoes caused minor property damage at Eureka Springs, in northwestern Arkansas; near Plymouth in northern Indiana; 25 miles northeast of Memphis, Tenn., and near Fort Smith, Ark. Three small twisters touched ground in Indiana causing minor damage.

Winds tipped over two house trailers near Kankakee, Ill., and three persons were slightly injured. Windstorms also struck Oakville, in Southern Illinois, damaging four homes and several farm buildings.

Nearly three inches of rain doused Monroe, La., in a six-hour period and more than 1 1/2 inches fell at Tupelo, Miss. Rain swept wide areas in Illinois, with hail and strong winds in many cities, including Chicago and its suburbs. Heavy hail peppered areas near St. Louis and parts of Arkansas, Mississippi and Indiana.

Nursing Home Probe Planned

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence L. Gaines, Cleveland director of public health and welfare, says his department will investigate complaints of mistreatment of the elderly in nursing homes.

Two deaths have raised questions about supervision in nursing homes. The Cuyahoga County coroner's office ruled that one resident died in a suicide leap. Another died of exposure. Her body was found in a snow bank 72 hours after she was last seen.

Gaines announces the investigation Wednesday after being informed of sharp increase in complaints of mistreatment.

YANKEE PACIFISTS GO HOME — That's the angry reaction of a young Vietnamese (left) as he confronts six members of an American anti-war group in Saigon. The Rev. A. J. Muste, 81 (seated, right), leader of the pacifists, raises his hand to calm the young Vietnamese as he faces Bradford Lyttle of Voluntown, Conn. The South Vietnamese government ordered the pacifist group to leave the country.

U.S. Pacifists Seek Visit to Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Six American pacifists expelled today from South Viet Nam said they would try to go to Red China and North Viet Nam in "the search for peace."

The leader of the group, Rev. A. J. Muste, 81, of New York, on arrival in Hong Kong said their previous attempts to get to Peking or Hanoi had not been successful "but now that we're in Hong Kong we will see if we can make any personal contacts here that might lead to visiting those two capitals."

If that fails, the minister said he and four others in the group will return to the United States. A sixth member, Karl Meyer of Chicago, said he would try to get a visa for Cambodia "to see what the situation is there."

Saigon police pulled the six pacifists kicking and protesting onto the plane for Hong Kong after blocking their attempt to demonstrate in front of the U.S. Embassy in the South Vietnamese capital. The Americans threw out antiwar pamphlets as they were hauled up the ramp to the plane.

Police roughed up several newsmen, seized the cameras of two television photographers and briefly detained a third cameraman during the wild exit scene at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

Five of the pacifists were brought to the airport in a police van five hours before they took off after police prevented their staging a one-hour antiwar vigil at the U.S. Embassy.

Carrying placards and pamphlets, the Presbyterian minister and four other members of the U.S. Committee for Non-Violent Action walked nearly six blocks through the streets of Saigon at 7 a.m. Around the corner from the embassy they ran into the line of policemen.

The pacifists slumped to the sidewalk when police told them to get into the van. Bradford Lyttle, 38, of Voluntown, Conn., protested: "Five Americans want to go to the American Embassy in Saigon. That is perfectly reasonable."

The police carried the Rev. Mr. Muste, Lyttle, William D.

City Income Tax Appeal Is Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has refused to review the case of a Cincinnati man convicted on charges of not estimating his city income tax.

Frederick Valentine challenged the Cincinnati ordinance requiring estimates on grounds that it exceeded state constitutional and statutory authority.

He was convicted on charges of failing to file declarations of estimated Cincinnati income tax for 1963 and 1964.

Valentine contended the purpose of estimates was "to obtain immediate revenue" rather than to determine the city's future budget. He asserted that a jail term penalty for violators amounted to imprisonment for debt in violation of the constitution.

New Italian Law Sets Limit on Worn Tires

The fifth demonstrator, Charlotte Thurber, 22, of Greenwich, Conn., walked of her own accord.

The sixth member of the group, Karl Meyer, 28, of Chicago, associate editor of the Catholic Worker, a pacifist publication, did not take part in the march but was spotted about two hours later 100 yards from the embassy. When he refused to walk to a police jeep, police grabbed him by the arms, put him into the vehicle and drove him to the airport.

The South Vietnamese government ordered all six to leave the country "as soon as possible" Wednesday after denying their request to spend an additional five days in Viet Nam. They quietly entered the country last Thursday. As American citizens they could stay seven days without Vietnamese visas.

Man Freed in Death Case Is Sentenced for Forgery

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Robert K. Domer, who was cleared of a first-degree murder charge Wednesday, was sentenced to two to 40 years in Ohio Penitentiary today on his plea of guilty to forgery charges.

Domer pleaded guilty to a two-count indictment that he forged a cancellation of a mortgage on his home in order to use the cancelled mortgage as collateral for a $10,000 loan.

Common Pleas Judge William A. Morris sentenced the former mortgage broker to one to 20 years on each count, with the sentences to run consecutively. Domer was taken back to Stark County Jail to await transfer to the state penitentiary.

A three-judge panel, with Judge Morris presiding, acquitted Domer Wednesday morning in the death of Howard F. Riddle, a 54-year-old Akron fruit peddler, whose charred body was found in Domer's burning Domer and his wife, Evelyn, also were indicted last June on federal charges filed in April, 1963. The charges were held in abeyance because Domer was convicted of murder at his first trial in November, 1963, and sentenced to die in the electric chair. He won a new trial on appeal.

Domer has spent 1,088 days behind bars, including about a year in death row at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Domer was indicted by a federal grand jury at Cleveland on June 29, 1965 on five counts of making false statements to the government, one count of embezzlement and two counts of mail fraud.

His wife was indicted on one count of making a false statement to the government and one count of mail fraud. She is free on $10,000 personal bond pending trial in U. S. District Court at Cleveland.

Domer is accused of diverting money collected for the Federal National Mortgage Association in connection with the operation of his Equitable Mortgage Co. and Empire Mortgage Co., both now defunct.

Mrs. Domer was associated with her husband in the mortgage companies and the charges against her arose from her work there.

Domer must post bond with the U. S. District Court clerk before he can be released pending prosecution of the federal charges.

He pleaded innocent to the charges when arraigned in Cleveland last July 9. His bond was set at $2,500, but it was not posted because he was in custody of Stark County authorities awaiting his second trial on the murder charges.

U.S. May Rebuy German Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is considering new transactions to buy back and otherwise reacquire about 500,000 bombs and artillery shells previously sold or given to West Germany, it was learned today.

The shells and bombs would go into U.S. stocks and presumably would be available for the war in Viet Nam.

At the same time, the Pentagon is thinking of getting back about 5 million rounds of small arms ammunition, 35,000 small weapons and about 1,500 radios from the Germans.

This material would be redistributed under the military aid program to other allied and friendly countries, possibly including South Viet Nam.

The Pentagon's moves to reclaim this ordinance and equipment were disclosed in a letter from John T. McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense, to Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo.

A copy of McNaughton's letter, dated March 31, became available after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday, denying once again reports of bomb shortages.

In his letter, McNaughton said "the guiding principle on reacquisition is, of course, that we will pay no more for the material than was paid to us when it was sold."

Last week, the Defense Department acknowledged that it had bought back from a German firm 5,570 750-pound bombs at a price more than 10 times what the weapons had been sold for as surplus.

The bombs were sold to the German firm for $1.70 each and the Defense Department paid $21 apiece to get them back. It was explained that, among other things, the high price took into account expenses the German firm incurred in transporting the bombs, building facilities to remove their nitrates for fertilizer and for other business costs.

McNaughton told Hall the price of the war material to be reacquired from Germany cannot be given precisely because some of it was sold and some was furnished as grant aid.

Senator Urges New Bombings

Russell Seeks Squeeze on Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said today he hopes the United States will expand its bombing of North Viet Nam to tighten the military squeeze on the Communists.

Russell, Georgia Democrat who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee and is close to President Johnson, left no doubt in an interview he advocates drastic measures to step up the Viet Nam military effort.

But he declined to comment on the possibility that action may be taken to seal off the harbor of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest, although he has urged such action.

Russell spoke out after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told senators Wednesday that "we will carry out continuing heavy air operations in the future." He said nothing about the targets to be attacked.

Carrier-based Navy planes have blasted railroad and highway bridges only 10 miles north of Haiphong. Saigon reports said air attacks had halted all main highway traffic in the industrial area between the port and Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital.

Russell said this was all to the good. He said wider ranging attacks should be supplemented with naval interdiction of supplies bound for Haiphong.

The intensified bombing has accompanied a lull in ground action in South Viet Nam which McNamara told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee may not last long.

Testifying on a $917-million military aid authorization, the defense secretary said the Viet Cong appeared to have gone to the sidelines in a period of political turmoil in South Viet Nam. He said they probably are regrouping for larger future operations.

Doctor Shuns Draft Call; He Is Only 81

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin J. Ersland has five days in which to register with his local draft board, the Selective Service advised him by mail.

"I'm going to sit this out and see what they do next," Ersland said with a chuckle Wednesday.

At 81, Ersland has 12 great grandchildren and was too old for the draft in World War I. He figures Selective Service will soon catch up with its mistake.

Posthumous Award Made

Life Sacrificed For 4 Friends

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Man, you've got to care. Believe it or not, you've got to care."

These were the words of a young American soldier just before he died a hero's death in far-off Viet Nam.

And today the nation paid its highest tribute to him.

President Johnson presented the Medal of Honor posthumously to the paratrooper who threw himself on a Communist hand grenade and absorbed the blast with his body to protect four fellow soldiers.

A White House ceremony was scheduled at noon to honor 19-year-old Pfc. Milton L. Olive III of Chicago with the nation's highest military decoration.

The youth's father, Milton L. Olive of Chicago, and about 20 other relatives of the hero were flown to Washington Wednesday night for the ceremony. The dead soldier is the third person and first Negro to be awarded the Medal of Honor for service in Viet Nam.

Young Olive was killed in action against Communist forces in Viet Nam Oct. 22, 1965, after falling on the grenade. The citation credits that act with saving the four lives.

The citation states: "Through his bravery, unhesitating action and complete disregard of his own safety, he prevented additional deaths."

Man Relates Ordeal of Kidnaping

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — Caterer Robert Rosenberg has described to police a 12-day ordeal he said began when he was kidnaped in Detroit and ended near here when he was shot in the back.

Rosenberg, 32-year-old father of four from the Detroit suburb of Southfield, staggered into a motel near Erie, Mich., early Wednesday, the bullet wound in his back. Doctors said it was inflicted no more than a few hours before.

He was in "serious but not critical condition" following surgery at Monroe hospital.

Monroe County Prosecutor Paul E. Braunlich said Rosenberg told police "he was abducted, he doesn't know by whom, he doesn't know where he was held, he doesn't know who shot him." Braunlich said "we have not yet completed the investigation."

Dr. Dale W. Douglas, who operated on Rosenberg, said the man had abrasions on his ankles and wrists which indicated he had been bound for a longtime. He said Rosenberg appeared well fed but was unshaven.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Cincinnati woman, injured in two traffic accidents, filed a $133.2 million damage suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court, charging she was unfairly treated by two insurance companies and a judge.

Last November, Shirley J. Estes won a $22,000 verdict in Judge Frank M. Gusweiler's Common Pleas Court in connection with one of the accidents.

Mrs. Estes' latest suit asks $66 million apiece in punitive damages from the insurance companies, and an additional $1,200,000 in compensatory damages from the companies and Judge Gusweiler.

U.S. Bombs Vital Red Pass Again

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets renewed their assaults on the approach to North Viet Nam's strategic Mu Gia Pass after day and night reopened the landslide-clogged funnel to the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a U.S. spokesman reported today.

Only eight days ago eight-engine U.S. B52s dropped 700 tons of explosives on the winding mountain route on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi in the Strategic Air Command's first strike against North Viet Nam.

The U.S. spokesman reported that smaller fighter-bombers were sent back to the pass Wednesday after reconnaissance showed that Communist labor battalions had gotten traffic moving again through the pass. He said some traffic was still moving on Route 15, which follows the pass into neighboring Laos and links up with southbound infiltration routes.

The spokesman said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantoms tore into the highway at three locations leaving huge craters.

For the first time in days, Vietnamese troops were reported in a hard fight with the Communists. Elements of government airborne and Ranger battalions killed 20 Viet Cong and captured a large store of weapons when they jumped a red battalion 8 miles northwest of Quang Ngai City, on the northern coast, U.S. officers reported.

With South Viet Nam's generals preoccupied with political problems, operations against the Viet Cong by government troops have fallen off considerably.

However, U.S. combat casualties continued at the usual level and South Vietnamese casualties rose again after dropping below those of the Americans for the first time in the war.

The U.S. military command announced that 89 Americans were killed, 635 wounded and five missing in action last week. Ninety-five Americans were killed, 501 wounded and four missing the week before.

The new figures raised American dead to 2,594 and wounded to 15,863 in the Viet Nam war since January 1961.

The Vietnamese command reported 141 of its troops were killed and 52 missing last week compared with 67 killed and 204 missing in the week of April 3-9. Wounded figures are not announced.

Midsection Still Battered By Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms continued across broad areas of the nation's midsection today after Wednesday's outbreak of violent weather which included small tornadoes, high winds, hail and heavy rain.

The twisters and severe thunderstorms struck areas from Arkansas and Mississippi to Illinois and Indiana. No serious injuries were reported and property damage was not extensive.

Thunderstorms continued during the early morning along a belt from eastern Michigan to southeastern Texas. In Upper Michigan rain changed to snow as cold air spread across the northern Midwest. One inch of snow fell at Houghton.

Tornadoes caused minor property damage at Eureka Springs, in northwestern Arkansas; near Plymouth in northern Indiana; 25 miles northeast of Memphis, Tenn., and near Fort Smith, Ark. Three small twisters touched ground in Indiana causing minor damage.

Winds tipped over two house trailers near Kankakee, Ill., and three persons were slightly injured. Windstorms also struck Bakerville, in Southern Illinois, damaging four homes and several farm buildings.

Nearly three inches of rain doused Monroe, La., in a six-hour period and more than 1½ inch fell at Tupelo, Miss. Rain swept wide areas in Illinois, with hail and strong winds in many cities, including Chicago and its suburbs. Heavy hail peppered areas near St. Louis and parts of Arkansas, Mississippi and Indiana.

U.S. May Rebuy German Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is considering new transactions to buy back and otherwise reacquire about 500,000 bombs and artillery shells previously sold or given to West Germany, it was learned today.

The shells and bombs would go into U.S. stocks and presumably would be available for the war in Viet Nam.

At the same time, the Pentagon is thinking of getting back about 5 million rounds of small arms ammunition, 35,000 small weapons and about 1,500 radios from the Germans.

This material would be redistributed under the military aid program to other allied and friendly countries, possibly including South Viet Nam.

The Pentagon's moves to reclaim this ordinance and equipment were disclosed in a letter from John T. McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense, to Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo.

A copy of McNaughton's letter, dated March 31, became available after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday, denying once again reports of bomb shortages.

In his letter, McNaughton said "the guiding principle on reacquisition is, of course, that we will pay no more for the material than was paid to us when it was sold."

55 Are Killed As Explosion Rips Train

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Fifty-five persons were killed and 127 others injured Wednesday night in the second explosion within three months aboard a train in a rebellious area of eastern India, the Indian government radio announced.

The broadcast said the blast shattered several compartments of the Tinsukia-New Jalpaiguri train as it stood in Lumding railway station. Medical teams and investigators were rushed to the isolated town deep in the wild Naga hills about 350 miles northeast of Calcutta.

The cause of the disaster was not yet known, the radio said. But rebel Naga tribesmen in Assam have been waging a guerrilla campaign for years against the central government's control.

The Nagas were blamed for two explosions aboard the Assam Mail Express on Feb. 16 in which 38 persons were killed.

Naga leaders recently conferred with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and pressed their case for establishment of a Naga state. She pronounced the talks satisfactory, but one Naga faction wants to fight rather than to negotiate and the rebellion has continued.

Senator Urges New Bombings

Russell Seeks Squeeze on Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said today he hopes the United States will expand its bombing of North Viet Nam to tighten the military squeeze on the Communists.

Russell, Georgia Democrat who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee and is close to President Johnson, left no doubt in an interview he advocates drastic measures to step up the Viet Nam military effort.

But he declined to comment on the possibility that action may be taken to seal off the harbor of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest, although he has urged such action.

Russell spoke out after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told senators Wednesday that "we will carry out continuing heavy air operations in the future." He said nothing about the targets to be attacked.

Carrier-based Navy planes have blasted railroad and highway bridges only 10 miles north of Haiphong. Saigon reports said air attacks had halted all main highway traffic in the industrial area between the port and Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital.

Russell said this was all to the good. He said wider ranging attacks should be supplemented with naval interdiction of supplies bound for Haiphong.

The intensified bombing has accompanied a lull in ground action in South Viet Nam which McNamara told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee may not last long.

Testifying on a $917-million military aid authorization, the defense secretary said the Viet Cong appeared to have gone to the sidelines in a period of political turmoil in South Viet Nam. He said they probably are regrouping for larger future operations.

Doctor Shuns Draft Call; He Is Only 81

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin J. Ersland has five days in which to register with his local draft board, the Selective Service advised him by mail.

"I'm going to sit this out and see what they do next," Ersland said with a chuckle Wednesday.

At 81, Ersland has 12 great grandchildren and was too old for the draft in World War I. He figures Selective Service will soon catch up with his mistake.

that the same men were responsible" for all five murders.

Police still have not solved the Miami bar holdup-slaying. The saloon has been shuttered ever since the holdup and reportedly is up for sale. Verdi's was closed Wednesday night.

But it was business as usual at other bars in the neighborhood, an older section of the city fled with low rent apartments, flats, and small businesses.

Posthumous Award Made

Life Sacrificed For 4 Friends

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Man, you've got to care. Believe it or not, you've got to care." These were the words of young American soldier just before he died a hero's death in far-off Viet Nam.

And today the nation paid its highest tribute to him.

President Johnson presented the Medal of Honor posthumously to the paratrooper who threw himself on a Communist hand grenade and absorbed the blast with his body to protect four fellow soldiers.

A White House ceremony was scheduled at noon to honor 19-year-old Pfc. Milton L. Olive III of Chicago with the nation's highest military decoration.

The youth's father, Milton L. Olive of Chicago, and about 20 other relatives of the hero were flown to Washington Wednesday night for the ceremony. The dead soldier is the third person and first Negro to be awarded the Medal of Honor for service in Viet Nam.

Young Olive was killed in action against Communist forces in Viet Nam Oct. 22, 1965, after falling on the grenade. The citation credits that act with saving the four lives.

The citation states: "Through his bravery, unhesitating action and complete disregard of his own safety, he prevented additional deaths."

Man Relates Ordeal of Kidnaping

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Caterer Robert Rosenberg has described to police a 12-day ordeal he said began when he was kidnaped in Detroit and ended near here when he was shot in the back.

Rosenberg, 32-year-old father of four from the Detroit suburb of Southfield, staggered into a motel near Erie, Mich. early Wednesday, the bullet wound in his back. Doctors said it was inflicted no more than a few hours before.

He was in "serious but not critical condition" following surgery at Monroe hospital.

Monroe County Prosecutor Paul E. Braunlich said Rosenberg told police "he was abducted, he doesn't know by whom, he doesn't know where he was held, he doesn't know who shot him." Braunlich said "we have not yet completed the investigation."

Dr. Dale W. Douglas, who operated on Rosenberg, said the man had abrasions on his ankles and wrists which indicated he had been bound for a long time. He said Rosenberg appeared well fed but was unshaven.

Unhappy Plaintiff Sues Trial Judge

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A Cincinnati woman, injured in two traffic accidents, filed a $133.2 million damage suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court, charging she was unfairly treated by two insurance companies and a judge.

Last November, Shirley J. Estes won a $22,000 verdict in Judge Frank M. Gusweiler's Common Pleas Court in connection with one of the accidents.

Mrs. Estes' latest suit asks $66 million apiece in punitive damages from the insurance companies, and an additional $1,200,000 in compensatory damages from the companies and Judge Gusweiler.

SALE DAY COMIN' — Gerald Winfough, Washington Twp., surveys the array of articles collected by the Logan Elm Boosters for their auction sale scheduled to begin 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

LE Boosters Collecting Articles for Auction Sale

Gerald Winfough, Route 4, is a "collector" and his garage at the moment looks like it.

For the past two weeks, Winfough has been collecting items for the Logan Elm Booster Club Auction Sale which will be held Saturday. His collection, which leaves almost no room in the garage for his automobile, includes such items as a washer, an ironer, six new mops, a case of canned goods and several pieces of furniture.

Many unusual items have been donated for the sale. Other committee members report donations of an automobile, a treadle sewing machine, a clock radio, a TV set, a gallon of white paint, an electric coffee maker and a fuel oil stove to name a few.

Lloyd Spung and Carl Agin, popular Logan Elm district auctioneers have agreed to lend their unique talents to the sale on Saturday to help make the day both entertaining for those who attend and profitable for the sponsoring group.

The zone chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rawlins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins will be busy tomorrow assembling the items to be sold. Anyone still wishing to donate something for the sale may bring it to the school early Saturday morning or call one of the zone chairmen to have it picked up. The sale is to begin at 10:30 a. m. and will continue until everything is sold.

Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valentine are general chairmen for the sale. Mrs. Allen Ankrom is Booster Club president.

Deadline for absentee voting in the May primary election is 4 p. m. of April 28, according to Pickaway Board of Elections spokesmen.

The deadline will affect registered voters who expect to be absent from the county on election day and plan to cast an absentee ballot.

Absentee ballots must be marked at the elections board office in the basement of the courthouse.

News Briefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Massillon man who came up with the slogan "Fasten Your Seat Belts . . . Heaven Can Wait" got his reward today—the state's No. 1 license plate, and a new automobile.

Sherman L. Roney, who is safety director of Republic Steel Corp.'s Union Drawn Division in Massillon, received the prizes from Gov. James A. Rhodes at an awards luncheon sponsored by the Ohio Committee for Highway Safety, and the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Teresa McGraw, 12, Lima, won first place in the competition for school age children with her slogan, "Make Ohio the Safety Belt" and she received a special license plate for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGraw.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "More than a groundbreaking, this is a complete breakthrough—a new concept in the treatment and care of our aged," Gov. James A. Rhodes said today in breaking ground for Ohio's first Golden Age Village.

The ceremony took place on state hospital property here with officials of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority and the Department of Mental Hygiene looking on.

The village complex will include a six-story building and some other buildings to house more than 200 elderly, most of whom are expected to be elderly patients of state hospitals declared non-psychotic, who can care for themselves but who have no other suitable housing.

Groundbreaking for a similar village in Toledo is expected soon, with villages also scheduled for construction in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Two Fayetteville, N.C., boys who had been missing from their homes since April 8 were found today, alive but hungry, in a sealed boxcar standing on a Milwaukee siding.

The boxcar was loaded with cases of empty beer bottles and authorities said the boys apparently had kept alive for nearly two weeks by drinking whatever few drops remained in each bottle.

The two were identified as David Tarvey, and William Waddell, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three witnesses have testified they watched actress Ilia Lamarr stuff $86 worth of merchandise into a shopping bag and then leave the store without paying.

The three, all employees of the department store where the actress was arrested last Jan. 27, testified Wednesday at Miss Lamarr's trial. She is charged with petty theft and has pleaded innocent.

LONDON (AP) — James Edward White, hunted for nearly three years in Britain's multi-million-dollar great train robbery, was seized today by police.

White, 46, came out of hiding last weekend — broke and appearing nervous — and tried to sell his story to two journalists within a bus ride of famed Scotland Yard.

Then he vanished again and Scotland Yard took up the trail. Accused of being one of the masterminds of the robbery, White disappeared after the robbery Aug. 8, 1963. He had been hunted since.

Two others wanted in the $7.2-million robbery were never caught. Of 12 men sentenced to a total of 307 years, two escaped from prison and are still at large.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno complained today that political forces in Indonesia are trying to push him out of power and some groups are trying to make him a figurehead president.

Speaking at a Cabinet meeting, the 64-year-old president said he had received a number of leaflets saying "President Sukarno has become old" and accusing him of bragging of the many titles he holds, including president for life.

"Here and now I say, yes, that I have done the bragging," he shouted. "Why? Because people abroad have said I was toppled by the army. I think it is my obligation to refute lies disseminated by the foreign press. I have not been toppled."

Unlicensed Motorist Caught After 31 Years of Driving

Dennis Legg, 44, Ashville, was handed fines totaling $250 in Circleville Municipal Court today. He also was sentenced to three days in the County Jail.

Legg entered a plea of guilty to driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants and to driving when he had no license.

The jail term and $150 of the fine was levied on the first charge.

Legg told Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb he had been driving for 31 years and had

Tribunal Takes New Look At Congressional Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court takes a new look today at Congress' power to investigate subversion and the spotlight is on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Backed by the American Civil Liberties Union, a former union officer convicted of contempt of Congress for balking at committee questions back in 1955 is challenging the committee's very existence.

The Justice Department is springing to the committee's defense with the argument that Congress cannot do its job properly if it is denied the power to compel testimony.

tional loss of life or injury to the members of his platoon. Pvt. Olive's conspicuous extraordinary heroism and intrepidity at the risk of his own life above and beyond the call of duty are in the highest tradition of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of his country.

For Olive's father, a slim, soft-spoken warehouseman, his son's death had an added purpose, he proudly told the Chicago City Council during a ceremony Wednesday.

"During World War II," Olive said, "unfortunate statements were made about the service and bravery of the Negro to our country."

"I am convinced now that the service the Negro soldier has given in Viet Nam has erased for all time the disparaging statements made about Negro servicemen," he said. "This honor gives us richer heritage."

Pfc. Olive's medal will join other mementoes in a glass-door cabinet in his father's room.

They include photographs which show young Olive as a grave, curious child looking with wonder at Santa Claus's beard; staring intently at a flock of chickens of his grandfather's Mississippi farm, and posing in uniform beside a Christmas tree shortly before he was sent to Viet Nam.

The cabinet also holds his Army uniform, two Purple Hearts (one awarded posthumously) and a cartridge fired at his military funeral.

"He was proud of his uniform," the elder Olive told the City Council, "and we felt it was a definite possibility he might decide to stay in (the Army)."

"He wrote quite regularly and usually told how he was getting along, the types of things he was doing, though he never mentioned combat," Olive said. "But we never got the impression he was disturbed about it."

His son was always religious and considerate, the father said, and always did more than his share.

Young Olive possibly gave his own reason for his brave act. "Man, you've got to care," he told a buddy shortly before he died. "Believe it or not, you got to care."

Board Welcomes New Berger Head

An official welcome was extended to Charles B. Beard, new Berger Hospital superintendent - administrator, when the institution's Board of Governors met Wednesday night for a regular session.

A veteran in the hospital administrative field, Beard was hired for the Berger post last month. He assumed duties here April 15.

Beard, a Columbus native, succeeds Miss Ellen Leist who resigned late last year but remained at the helm until a replacement was found. Miss Leist has been offered the director of nursing service at Berger, a post she held here on a previous occasion.

The new administrator, noting that only four days on a new job hardly qualifies one to make a comprehensive study of the hospital's operations, listed several observations made so far. Looking on the bright side, he commended the over-all Berger function, hospital personnel and the dedication and loyalty of Miss Leist.

BEARD explained that his early impressions dwelled only on the bright side of the picture. He said problems related to Berger and any other hospital will be topics for subsequent meetings.

In the way of additional comments, the administrator said he intends to include a superintendent's report as part of the agenda for each monthly meeting of the governing board.

Additional discussion centered on vehicle parking and other safety improvements. Mayor Ben Gordon, board chairman, said plans for a new parking arrangement are in the process of being prepared.

Beard was authorized to seek bids concerning sidewalk repairs and improvements at the hospital's main entrance doors.

The possibility of hiring a full-time anesthetist also was discussed. One person has been interviewed for the post. Beard said more contacts will be made.

Mrs. Doris Wiggins, president of the hospital's General Guild, told the board her organization is interested in promoting a grounds improvement project at Berger. She asked the governors for opinions and suggestions.

ELATED with the General Guild's intentions, members authorized the organization to proceed with its plans.

Beard said future efforts will be concentrated on obtaining full recognition for Berger from the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation. The commission sets certain requirements hospitals must meet in order to become affiliated.

Hospital activity for March listed the average adult daily census at 37.1 patients, representing a 71.8 per cent occupancy.

Adult admissions for the month numbered 182. There were 34 births.

Emergency Room visits totaled 332 and 76 operations were performed.

Laboratory procedures for inpatients and outpatients were listed at 2,056. Total x-ray functions numbered 425.

Fees Distributed

Pickaway County received $1,579.32 in the regular quarterly distribution of liquor license fees, according to State Auditor Roger Cloud.

Mrs. Leta Mitchell, Elyria, who serves as president of the Ohio Records Assn. was present and conducted an informative "round table" discussion.

Mrs. Luta Wright, Athens County Recorder, will be hostess for the next meeting of the organization.

Absentee Voter Deadline Nears

Deadline for absentee voting in the May primary election is 4 p. m. of April 28, according to Pickaway Board of Elections spokesmen.

The deadline will affect registered voters who expect to be absent from the county on election day and plan to cast an absentee ballot.

Absentee ballots must be marked at the elections board office in the basement of the courthouse.

News Briefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Massillon man who came up with the slogan "Fasten Your Seat Belts . . . Heaven Can Wait" got his reward today—the state's No. 1 license plate, and a new automobile.

Sherman L. Roney, who is safety director of Republic Steel Corp.'s Union Drawn Division in Massillon, received the prizes from Gov. James A. Rhodes at an awards luncheon sponsored by the Ohio Committee for Highway Safety, and the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Teresa McGraw, 12, Lima, won first place in the competition for school age children with her slogan, "Make Ohio the Safety Belt" and she received a special license plate for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGraw.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "More than a groundbreaking, this is a complete breakthrough—a new concept in the treatment and care of our aged," Gov. James A. Rhodes said today in breaking ground for Ohio's first Golden Age Village.

The ceremony took place on state hospital property here with officials of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority and the Department of Mental Hygiene looking on.

The village complex will include a six-story building and some other buildings to house more than 200 elderly most of whom are expected to be elderly patients of state hospitals declared non-psychotic, who can care for themselves but who have no other suitable housing.

Groundbreaking for a similar village in Toledo is expected soon, with villages also scheduled for construction in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Two Fayetteville, N.C., boys who had been missing from their homes since April 8 were found today, alive but hungry, in a sealed boxcar standing on a Milwaukee siding.

The boxcar was loaded with cases of empty beer bottles and authorities said the boys apparently had kept alive for nearly two weeks by draining whatever few drops remained in each bottle.

The two were identified as David Tarvey, and William Waddell, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three witnesses have testified they watched actress Iledy Lamarr stuff $86 worth of merchandise into a shopping bag and then leave the store without paying.

The three, all employees of the department store where the actress was arrested last Jan. 27, testified Wednesday at Miss Lamarr's trial. She is charged with petty theft and has pleaded innocent.

LONDON (AP) — James Edward White, hunted for nearly three years in Britain's multi-million-dollar great train robbery, was seized today by police.

White, 46, came out of hiding last weekend — broke and appearing nervous — and tried to sell his story to two journalists within a bus ride of famed Scotland Yard.

Then he vanished again and Scotland Yard took up the trail. Accused of being one of the masterminds of the robbery, White disappeared after the robbery Aug. 8, 1963. He had been hunted since.

Two others wanted in the $7.2-million robbery were never caught. Of 12 men sentenced to a total of 307 years, two escaped from prison and are still at large.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno complained today that political forces in Indonesia are trying to push him out of power and some groups are trying to make him a figurehead president.

Speaking at a Cabinet meeting, the 64-year-old president said he had received a number of leaflets saying "President Sukarno has become old" and accusing him of bragging of the many titles he holds, including president for life.

"Here and now I say, yes, that I have done the bragging," he shouted. "Why? Because people abroad have said I was toppled by the army. I think it is my obligation to refute lies disseminated by the foreign press. I have not been toppled."

Unlicensed Motorist Caught After 31 Years of Driving

Dennis Legg, 44, Ashville, was handed fines totaling $250 in Circleville Municipal Court today. He also was sentenced to three days in the County Jail.

Legg entered a plea of guilty to driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants and to driving when he had no license.

The jail term and $150 of the fine was levied on the first charge.

Legg told Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb he had been driving for 31 years and had never had a driver's license. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Richard DeVors Jr., 22, Ashville, was fined $50 and costs Wednesday by Judge Lamb.

DeVors was charged with operating an automobile on a state highway using license plates registered to another car. The judge suspended $25 of the fine.

Justus Puckett, 33, Newark forfeited a $19 bond posted for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Tribunal Takes New Look At Congressional Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court takes a new look today at Congress' power to investigate subversion and the spotlight is on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Backed by the American Civil Liberties Union, a former union officer convicted of contempt of Congress for balking at committee questions back in 1955 is challenging the committee's very existence.

The Justice Department is springing to the committee's defense with the argument that Congress cannot do its job properly if it is denied the power to compel testimony.

Both sides, in briefs submitted to the court before today's hearing, cited past decisions by the justices to support their arguments.

The decision, later in the term, may turn on how the justices decide to tip the delicate balance between individual rights to freedom of association and the government's interest in staking out subversion.

This is the second time John T. Gojack, a former vice president of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, has come before the court on a contempt conviction.

His first conviction for refusing to answer committee questions during a hearing in Washington was thrown out by the high court in 1962 because the indictment did not state "the subject under inquiry."

He was indicted again the same year, convicted and sentenced to three months in prison, and fined $200. Last May the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia rejected his appeal and upheld the conviction.

Gojack was asked about 500 questions by the committee and, his lawyers said, answered most of them. Among other things, he testified that since 1949 he had filed non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law.

The indictment was based on his refusal to answer six questions, the first of which was: "Are you now a member of the Communist party?"

The thrust of Gojack's argument is that the committee was invading his "First Amendment rights and his right to privacy" and that the hearing itself had an illegal purpose — exposure.

Deaths

MR. JAMES L. CARNSER Services will be conducted 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the Deane Funeral Home for Mr. James L. Carnser, of Route 4, who died Wednesday in Veterans' Hospital, Dayton.

The Rev. Richard Darby will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p. m. today.

Guam Vote Is Favored

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee has approved legislation permitting the people of Guam to elect their own governor and lieutenant governor. The posts now are appointive.

Lorain Phone Service To Be Eyed by PUCO

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Investigators of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) will check complaints this week about Lorain Telephone Co. service.

Complaints from Sheffield Lake residents prompted the investigation. Complaints include difficulty in completing local and long distance calls, excessive noise on telephone lines, overcharges on long distance calls, discourteous operators and poor installation service.

tional loss of life or injury to the members of his platoon. Pvt. Olive's conspicuous extraordinary heroism and intrepidity at the risk of his own life above and beyond the call of duty are in the highest tradition of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of his country.

For Olive's father, a slim, soft-spoken warehouseman, his son's death had an added purpose, he proudly told the Chicago City Council during a ceremony Wednesday.

"During World War II," Olive said, "unfortunate statements were made about the service and bravery of the Negro to our country."

"I am convinced now that the service the Negro soldier has given in Viet Nam has erased for all time the disparaging statements made about Negro servicemen," he said. "This honor gives us richer heritage."

Pfc. Olive's medal will join other mementoes in a glass-door cabinet in his father's room. They include photographs which show young Olive as a grave, curious child looking with wonder at Santa Claus's beard; starting intently at a flock of chickens of his grandfather's Mississippi farm, and posing in uniform beside a Christmas tree shortly before he was sent to Viet Nam.

The cabinet also holds his Army uniform, two Purple Hearts (one awarded posthumously) and a cartridge fired at his military funeral.

"He was proud of his uniform," the elder Olive told the City Council, "and we felt it was a definite possibility he might decide to stay in (the Army)."

"He wrote quite regularly and usually told how he was getting along, the types of things he was doing, though he never mentioned combat," Olive said. "But we never got the impression he was disturbed about it."

His son was always religious and considerate, the father said, and always did more than his share.

Young Olive possibly gave his own reason for his brave act. "Man, you've got to care," he told a buddy shortly before he died. "Believe it or not, you got to care."

Chief, Sheriff Attend Meet

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Police Chief Robert Temple attended Wednesday's Police Officers Training Council meeting in Columbus.

The two local law enforcement officials are coordinators from Pickaway County in the district that also includes Ross, Fayette, Clinton and Highland.

A district meeting has been scheduled in Washington C. H. on April 29.

Unlicensed Dog Costs Owner $10

James Johnson, 141 Cottage Hill, was fined $10 and costs Wednesday in Circleville Municipal Court.

He was cited by Ralph Wallace, county dog warden, for failure to purchase a dog license.

Board Welcomes New Berger Head

An official welcome was extended to Charles B. Beard, new Berger Hospital superintendent - administrator, when the institution's Board of Governors met Wednesday night for a regular session.

A veteran in the hospital administrative field, Beard was hired for the Berger top post last month. He assumed duties here April 15.

Beard, a Columbus native, succeeds Miss Ellen Leist who resigned late last year but remained at the helm until a replacement was found. Miss Leist has been offered the director of nursing service at Berger, a post she held here on a previous occasion.

The new administrator, noting that only four days on a new job hardly qualifies one to make a comprehensive study of the hospital's operations, listed several observations made so far. Looking on the bright side, he commended the over-all Berger function, hospital personnel and the dedication and loyalty of Miss Leist.

BEARD explained that his early impressions dwelled only on the bright side of the picture. He said problems related to Berger and any other hospital will be topics for subsequent meetings.

In the way of additional comments, the administrator said he intends to include a superintendent's report as part of the agenda for each monthly meeting of the governing board.

Additional discussion centered on vehicle parking and other safety improvements. Mayor Ben Gordon, board chairman, said plans for a new parking arrangement are in the process of being prepared.

Beard was authorized to seek bids concerning sidewalk repairs and improvements at the hospital's main entrance doors.

The possibility of hiring a full-time anesthetist also was discussed. One person has been interviewed for the post. Beard said more contacts will be made.

Mrs. Doris Wiggins, president of the hospital's General Guild, told the board her organization is interested in promoting a grounds improvement project at Berger. She asked the governors for opinions and suggestions.

ELATED with the General Guild's intentions, members authorized the organization to proceed with its plans.

Beard said future efforts will be concentrated on obtaining full recognition for Berger on the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation. The commission sets certain requirements hospitals must meet in order to become affiliated.

Hospital activity for March listed the average adult daily census at 37.1 patients, representing a 71.8 per cent occupancy.

Adult admissions for the month numbered 182. There were 34 births.

Emergency Room visits totaled 332 and 76 operations were performed.

Laboratory procedures for inpatients and outpatients were listed at 2,056. Total x-ray functions numbered 425.

Fees Distributed Pickaway County received $1,579.32 in the regular quarterly distribution of liquor license fees, according to State Auditor Roger Cloud.

Gregory Peck Says Oscar Show Is 'Our Tribal Rite'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy aftermath—Gregory Peck, who could remain calm in the midst of a Watts riot, gazed serenely over the incredible clamor of the Oscar Ball.

"We put up with it," he explained in his matter-of-fact tones, "because it is our tribal rite."

Indeed the Academy Awards event seems to grow more ritualistic and tribal as the years pass. There are many who carp at the profusion of awards, the endlessness of the telecast, the inevitable thanks to fellow workers by the winners, the utter chaos of the ball afterward. Yet the Oscar affair seems to work. The confused atmosphere somehow adds to the excitement. And even a mishandled academy event bears more prestige than any other such doings, because of the vast, colorful history behind it.

That doesn't mean that Oscar couldn't stand improvement. It shouldn't take 2½ hours to dispense 26 awards. Monday's telecast ended at half-past midnight in the East, and many a viewer must have shuffled off to bed before the big prizes came up. A change of setting would help. The Santa Monica Civic Auditorium is serviceable, but it remains what it is: a civic auditorium.

Joe Pasternak, who has produced the Oscar show for the past two years, agreed that the site should be moved.

"The academy is big enough and important enough to have its own place for giving out awards," he argued.

Ex-Chef to Princess Ordered To Keep Mum

LONDON (AP) — A chef who worked three years for Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon is under court orders not to divulge information about what he observed in Kensington Palace. The royal couple was granted temporary orders by a London court Tuesday against the chef, Leo Groden, 52.

The action was started after an article appeared last week about the royal couple in a German magazine. And aide to the princess said it could only have been written by somebody in Groden's position.

A plan is being formulated to provide the academy a new home in Century City, the vast development on what used to be 20th Century-Fox's back lot. The place would include a hall which could be used for the awards.

Other afterthoughts on the 38th awards: the addition of color to the telecast gave color-set owners a chance to comment more fully on the stars' gowns. The starter was Julie Christie's outfit, gold lame pants. Shelley Winters played it more conservatively with an Oleg Cassini gown of black satin with wide white collar.

Did the stage setting seem like $75,000 worth? That's what it cost.

The commercials on the Oscarcast seemed to be the least offensive of recent years. If the academy must have a sponsor, it makes more sense to be selling film and cameras, rather than shampoo, coffee cakes and motorbikes.

Jumping to Some Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: If the New York Yankees win the American League pennant this year, I'll eat home plate. Few million-dollar deals are closed by guys dressed in drippy shirts. When you get in that league, you don't have to save on your laundry bills. Walk five miles a day regularly and you'll probably never beat up your wife. For one thing, you won't need the extra exercise. If I were selling life insurance to athletes, I'd concentrate on weight lifters. They are introspective and worry more about their health more than any other kind of muscle benders. They also cry more easily. Two-thirds of the guys you see coming to work carrying a well-stuffed briefcase aren't hard workers. They just like a big lunch. You can have all the other actresses in the world if I can have just three—Julie Harris, Julie Andrews and Julie Christie. Never lend money to a fellow who doesn't wear an undershirt. He's bound to have some other character defect, too. Look at the next construction worker on the street you see using an electric jackhammer. The odds are 4-1 that he'll have a big belly. A good business executive is often more precise in the use of words than a college English instructor. He has to be; he can't afford to say anything except exactly what he means. It is impossible to rid ourselves of all prejudice. For example, when I see anyone wearing dark glasses on a cloudy day—although certainly it should be no concern of mine—I immediately take a strong dislike to him and put him down as a shoo-off idiot. The same thing goes for a woman over 50 who wears a yellow ribbon in her hair. Every business firm should have pasted on its bulletin board this remark by Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia: "A swivel chair has ruined more men than chorus girls or liquor." The average woman would have more dignity being hanged in public than being drunk in public. No bus driver ever died and left his money to a favorite passenger.

The Soviet Approach

By John Chamberlain

Dean Rusk, our ever-trustful Secretary of State, has been quoted as saying that once the Vietnamese problem is out of the way there should be no difficulty in pursuing a live-and-let-live policy of co-existence with the Soviet Union. In Latin America there are those who, despite the blood-thirsty speeches at the recent tri-continental conference in Havana to take Dean Rusk seriously. Indeed, the Mexicans, hopeful that the Soviet lust for domination is no longer what it used to be, have been dicker for a purely cultural exchange — "quid pro quo" agreement — with Moscow. They aren't sure that they can get it on terms acceptable to both countries, but if they fail it won't be for lack of trying.

The western world's hunger for "detente," however, fails to reckon with the fact that the Soviets' foreign policy is always an "eat your cake and have it" business. The Russians are sincerely desirous of co-existence for a single geographical area: they want it to protect their empire in the captive nations of eastern Europe. But for the rest of the world they want a free hand in pushing their "wars of liberation." The important thing is for Dean

Rusk to know what part of the globe he is looking at when he expresses his hopes for the growth of the co-existence spirit. The Soviets, with their ingrained Marxian capacity for practicing "double think" without blinking an eye, have perfectly good reasons for compartmentalizing their foreign policy. They have an extremely profitable thing going for them in eastern Europe, so why risk the status quo in that region? What eastern Europe means to them can be deduced from their own yearbook of foreign trade in 1964, which has just been released for distribution throughout the West. Alexander Kutt, an economist who has analyzed every Soviet foreign trade yearbook for the last ten years, has put together the evidence drawn from a decade of trade relations between Moscow and the seven satellite Communist states of Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, and Rumania. What the Soviets' own figures prove is that Moscow has wrung some $12 billion in illegitimate profits out of the satellites in the 1955-1964 period. The overcharges on Soviet exports to East-Central European countries have amounted to $7.3 billion, or approximately 31 per cent over the amount those countries would have had to pay for the same volume of goods at prices charged by Moscow to Western Europe. Meanwhile, the underpayments for Soviet imports from the satellites reached $5.5 billion, reckoned by the difference between the prices charged on the two sides of the Iron Curtain for comparable goods. To get a proper perspective on what Moscow has wrung out of the hides of its captive East European peoples, the $12 bil-

Times may seem rugged enough on the globe's surface these days but now scientific probing is really getting under Old Mother Earth's skin. Like the U.S.' Mohole Project (off Hawaii), Russians plan to drill a hole 9 1/2 miles deep.

However, keep your shirt on — the holes are part of an International Geophysical program. So, there'll be no inner space race.

Soviet Scientists plan to drill their hole on the Kola Peninsula, north of the Arctic Circle. That's cool, man, cool!

Meanwhile, we read in a report by the U. S. Bureau of Land Management that some 460 million acres remain in the American public domain. So — maybe you have it tough finding a parking space, but we still have plenty of elbow room!

You're really an old, old, very old timer, says Grandpappy Jenkins, if you can remember when only astronomers spoke of billions.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

What are the danger signals for cancer?

Mrs. O.T.O., Kentucky
Dear Mrs. O.: The American Cancer Society has for years been actively teaching the danger signals of cancer in an effort to reduce the calamities caused by neglect and delay.

1. Unusual, prolonged bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or in any of the tissues of the body.
3. A sore, a cut, an ulcer, a wound that does not heal.
4. Any sudden change in the bowel or bladder habits, or blood in the stool or blood in the urine.
5. Continued indigestion or difficulty in swallowing food or drink.
6. Any change in the appearance of a wart or pigmented mole.
7. A persistent cough with or without expectoration of blood.
8. Hoarseness that lasts more than a few weeks.

These are signals that alert one to the request of the body for help. Many cancers are curable. But before they can be cured they must be recognized and treated early.

The fear of cancer can erode the life happiness of an individual and a family.

Fears thrive on the cover of darkness. Fears disappear when the early signals are heeded and brought to the attention of your doctor.

What foods are considered to be difficult to digest?

K. Y., Indiana
Dear Mr. K.: The digestion of foods depends on the age and the general physical condition. The consumption of frankfurters, sauerkraut, mustard, hamburgers, pickles and chili seem to be the private province of the young. But then indigestion does not flourish in the young as it does as we grow older.

In general the middle-aged person without any specific illnesses will find that fried foods and foods that contain a large amount of fat are indigestible.

Highly seasoned, spiced foods covered by gravies and sauces, are not readily digested.

Raw vegetables and raw fruits can also be hard to digest, especially in the elderly and when poorly chewed.

When food and drink are consumed rapidly and without moderation indigestion can result.

Can anyone be too old for psychoanalysis?

B.P.
Dear Mr. P.: It is generally accepted that as people get older, more fixed in their ideas and in their way of living they become more difficult to analyze.

However, there is no age that cannot benefit from "talking out" their problems to a physician, a psychologist, a psychoanalyst or a religious advisor.

There is a great art in using leisure time. Prepare for it long before retirement.

The Soviet Approach

By John Chamberlain

Dean Rusk, our ever-trustful Secretary of State, has been quoted as saying that once the Vietnamese problem is out of the way there should be no difficulty in pursuing a live-and-let-live policy of co-existence with the Soviet Union. In Latin America there are those who, despite the blood-thirsty speeches at the recent tri-continental conference in Havana on "subversion", tend to take Dean Rusk seriously. Indeed, the Mexicans, hopeful that the Soviet lust for domination is no longer what it used to be, have been dicker for a purely cultural exchange — "quid pro quo" agreement — with Moscow. They aren't sure that they can get it on terms acceptable to both countries, but if they fail it won't be for lack of trying.

The western world's hunger for "detente," however, fails to reckon with the fact that the Soviets' foreign policy is always an "eat your cake and have it" business. The Russians are sincerely desirous of co-existence for a single geographical area: they want it to protect their empire in the captive nations of eastern Europe. But for the rest of the world they want a free hand in pushing their "wars of liberation." The important thing is for Dean

Rusk to know what part of the globe he is looking at when he expresses his hopes for the growth of the co-existence spirit. The Soviets, with their ingrained Marxian capacity for practicing "double think" without blinking an eye, have perfectly good reasons for compartmentalizing their foreign policy. They have an extremely profitable thing going for them in eastern Europe, so why risk the status quo in that region? What eastern Europe means to them can be deduced from their own yearbook of foreign trade in 1964, which has just been released for distribution throughout the West.

Alexander Kutt, an economist who has analyzed every Soviet foreign trade yearbook for the last ten years, has put together the evidence drawn from a decade of trade relations between Moscow and the seven satellite Communist states of Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, and Rumania. What the Soviets' own figures prove is that Moscow has wrung some $12 billion in illegitimate profits out of the satellites in the 1955-1964 period. The overcharges on Soviet exports to East-Central European countries have amounted to $7.3 billion, or approximately 31 per cent over the amount those countries would have had to pay for the same volume of goods at prices charged by Moscow to Western Europe. Meanwhile, the underpayments for Soviet imports from the satellites reached $5.5 billion, reckoned by the difference between the prices charged on the two sides of the Iron Curtain for comparable goods.

To get a proper perspective on what Moscow has wrung out of the hides of its captive East European peoples, the $12 billion almost equals the $13 billion which the United States has distributed among the "have-not" nations of the world in economic aid that will never be repaid. Thus the "spread" in what might be called the comparative decadence of East and West is $25 billion!

With such a gold mine going for it in eastern Europe, Moscow will always be willing to settle for co-existence along the boundary that separates the captive nations from West Germany and Austria. The Red Chinese must contend in vain against this. As a good anti-Communist friend of mine sums up the Soviet attitude, "they'd spit in any Chinaman's eye for $12 billion."

When it comes to Southeast Asia, Africa, and Latin America, however, the Soviets have nothing to gain by keeping the peace. So the internal Soviet press, with its eyes on trouble spots in South Vietnam, Guatemala, and Rhodesia, is filled with abusive headlines about "the Washington Interventionists," the U.S. "School of Butchers," the "Watchdogs of the Pentagon," "Piracy under the Guise of Legality," and "Johnson Is a Murderer." Co-existence is for the birds — i.e., the cultures — except along the Oder-Neisse line and the Czechoslovakian and Hungarian frontiers.

Soldier Finally Gets the Word; Tomorrow He Goes after 'Charlie'

Editor's Note — Finally the word came from the sergeant — tomorrow was D-Day for the outfit's first major assault against the Viet Cong. For young Clark Richie it meant the end of uncertainty. Now would come the test of a man. But there was still one more day to live through. The following article tells of the fourth of five days in Clark Richie's Viet Nam existence.

By JOHN NANCE

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP) — The soldiers nestled themselves around their bunker this gray, warm Thursday morning and spoke very little.

Pfc. Clark Richie hung clothes he had washed in his helmet on the bamboo encircling their position. The three other men in Bunker 14 wrote letters and filled out money orders and worked over their rifles.

They were on the perimeter of the U.S. 25th Division camp near Cu Chi. It was Viet Cong country and had been for decades. Cu Chi was in the heart of it.

For more than an hour scarcely a word was exchanged. Richie, 22, of Jay, Okla., finished with his laundry and sat atop the sandbagged bunker with pencil and airmail stationery.

"Dear Mom," his letter started. "I got your letter yesterday. Glad you and everyone else are fine. I am too, except for the heat and my blisters."

"By the time you read this we will have completed our first major operation. If there's anything to worry about you'll know before you get this letter."

It was not official, but the talk all week around 2nd Battalion of the 27th Infantry Regiment — the famed "Wolfhounds" of Korea — was that a big assault was due. It was to be the outfit's first operation in Viet Nam. Rumor had set it for Thursday or Friday. It already was 10 a.m. Thursday.

The stillness was broken from time to time by the blasts of the big American artillery. Shells whooshed overhead and out toward the Viet Cong jungles and rubber plantations.

Richie had seen combat before, last year, when he was six months in Viet Nam as a machine gunner on a helicopter. But for most of the men their first combat had come when they battled the Viet Cong for the ground to establish this base camp.

Youth Corps Beefed Up Against Teen Lawlessness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Neighborhood Youth Corps, one of President Johnson's leading weapons in the war against teen-age lawlessness, is beefing up its summer programs in potential big city trouble spots.

To do it, it's cutting back some programs elsewhere.

Officials indicated in interviews today that projects in some predominantly Negro, low-income areas such as Watts and Harlem will be increased by 50 per cent or more.

Over-all plans still are tentative but the Job Corps expects to take 190,000 teen-agers off the streets this summer and put them to work — 50,000 more than a year ago.

The program was given a presidential boost last week when Johnson ordered the corps to extend its summer program to an additional 25,000 boys and girls as part of the government's youth opportunity program.

But getting more spots to fill won't solve all the problems, sources said. For example, at the time of the Watts riots in Los Angeles last summer more than 1,000 jobs were authorized but unfilled.

"Part of the program is getting jobs and part is getting them filled," said one Job Corps

Richie put on fresh fatigues and drove a dusty three miles to Cu Chi where he taught English twice a week to Vietnamese children. He had started teaching just this week and was enthusiastic about it. The dark-eyed children had quick minds and were eager to learn.

Class over, Richie rode back to camp, his rifle on his knees. He was just in time back at camp to make a special squad meeting.

A circle of soldiers formed around the sergeant. They knelt and stared at him. The afternoon sun had burned away the overcast and was broiling down at around 95 degrees.

They were finally being told for certain: At dawn the 2nd Battalion would assault by helicopters and strike against a Viet Cong stronghold.

Richie and his machine gun would be in the first wave.

It was to be the first helicopter assault of 25th Division troops in Viet Nam. The mission was to last one day. From the landing zone the force would push through three minor Viet Cong jungled areas to reach Xom Moi — a Communist fortress area that had twice before thrown back Vietnamese attacks and only a month ago had forced and American assault force to curtail its mission and pull back.

Armored vehicles and tanks would smash into Xom Moi ahead of the battalion. The men would then assault and move on through to camp by nightfall. It would be a little less than three miles from the landing zone to Richie's bunker.

Later, as dusk fell, the men checked their gear a final time so to be ready when called in the morning darkness a few hours away.

Richie showered under the big 50-gallon drums ripped up on a scaffold near the command tent. As he headed back to his bunker in the now moonlit darkness he stopped by a friend's position.

"Hey, George," he called. "It's me, Richie. Say, I thought I should mention that I gave sergeant what'sname 30 bucks to get me a watch down at the PX next time he goes."

"Yeah, well, so—"

"Well, just in case something happens tomorrow, I'd just as soon you had the money," Richie said.

"That's stupid. Whatta ya mean?"

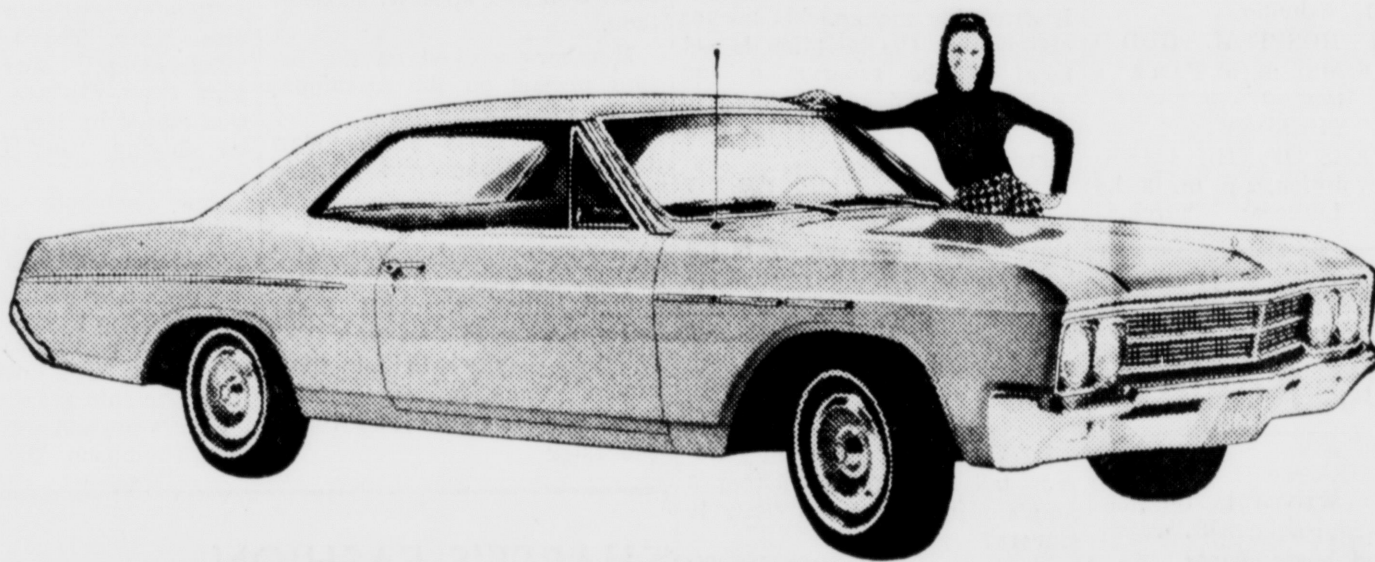

"I know," Richie said, "but just in case, I mean. At least you know about the 30 bucks. See you in the morning."

Alcoholism Ranks High as Disease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Health, Education and Welfare Department ranks alcoholism with cancer, heart disease and mental illness as one of the nation's four major health problems.

This was revealed in testimony today before a House Appropriations subcommittee by officials backing a $7 million 1967 budget request for programs on alcoholism.

They said there are nearly 5 million alcoholics in the United States, with 200,000 new cases each year. About 2 million of these are job holders. Officials testified wages lost to alcoholism total some $2.5 billion annually.

Narcotic Aid Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill authorizing federal courts to offer narcotic addicts a chance to get medical treatment instead of facing prosecution.

"Part of the program is getting jobs and part is getting them filled," said one Job Corps aide. This summer Job Corps officials have arranged transportation to take the Watts youths to and from work — a problem many of them cannot cope with in the sprawling Los Angeles area.

Despite the unfilled Job Corps quota in Watts last summer, it has been classified as a potential crisis spot and will be given more Job Corps attention.
More prosperous areas can expect smaller job authorizations this summer. Job Corps Director Jack Howard said the more than 700 youth projects across the nation have been surveyed since January and trimmed where possible to provide more funds for the massive summer program. The survey was known informally as "Operation Recapture."
Howard acknowledged that many communities have complained about the cutbacks in their year-round programs but added, "We're not firing any kids — just lowering the ceiling."
It's part of the Job Corps drive, said an aide, "to reach deep into the bowels of poverty, to find those kids who haven't worked in their lives, the potential dropouts." Included in this summer's stepped-up assault will be the low-income areas of Appalachia.

Mom's Office Job Won't Help Kids

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I want to work outside my home but my husband does not want me to. When we were first married I worked and loved every minute of it. Now we have two children, nine and four, and I want to work again, but my husband says no. The little one has no one to play with. She has plenty of toys but that doesn't stop her from hanging on to me all day. She cries if she can't be with me. She wants all my time and this makes me nervous. My husband says I have plenty of work to do at home, but I could get someone to do my housework and watch the baby. It's not a matter of money. I just need to get out. What do you think?

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring finally has arrived in the nation's supermarkets, with strawberries and lower prices.

Strawberry shipments from Louisiana, California and Mexico are picking up, and many stores are featuring the berries on weekend specials.

Wholesale food prices have dropped to the lowest level this year, and farm production holds out the hope of still lower prices for pork, chicken, eggs, vegetables and fruit in the weeks ahead.

Pork chops, roasts and bacon are lower prices in many areas this week. Pork chops are down 20 cents a pound at a New York City area supermarket chain. Hams are down 1 to 6 cents a pound in California.

Prices of the cheaper beef cuts, and veal are headed down on the west coast.

Egg prices are down 2 cents a dozen in the New York area and 1 to 3 cents on the West Coast.

The cold caused some damage to Georgia peaches.

The tornado damaged some orange trees in Florida, and major packers there have raised the wholesale price of frozen orange juice. A spokesman for the packers said the orange crop yield also was cut by the January freeze.

Monday Meet Slated
Monday Club will meet 8 p. m. Monday in the cafeteria of Circleville High School.

Mom's Office Job Won't Help Kids

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I want to work outside my home but my husband does not want me to. When we were first married I worked and loved every minute of it. Now we have two children, nine and four, and I want to work again, but my husband says no. The little one has no one to play with. She has plenty of toys but that doesn't stop her from hanging on to me all day. She cries if she can't be with me. She wants all my time and this makes me nervous. My husband says I have plenty of work to do at home, but I could get someone to do my housework and watch the baby. It's not a matter of money I just need to get out. What do you think?

BORED

DEAR BORED: As I see it, the only good reason for a mother with pre-school children to work outside her home is because she needs the income. Small children must be TAUGHT to play alone, and not to hang on mother and demand all her time. Don't let your failure to teach her this vital lesson drive you to an outside job.

DEAR ABBY: Nine years ago I married a full-blooded Indian (I am also an Indian.) We had three children. I divorced this man to marry a Caucasian. My Caucasian husband adopted my three children. The adoption was handled through the Tribal Court. I even had their birth certificates changed to show that my second husband was their legal father. Now my second husband is divorcing me and his lawyer claims that the adoption is not legal off the reservation and therefore he does not have to support my children. Is that correct?

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: You need a lawyer to acquaint you with the law of your state. If you cannot afford to retain one, seek help from your local Legal Aid Society. "Tribal" law and civil law may differ.

DEAR ABBY: How can a woman tell for certain whether a man's proposal of marriage is sincere?

PROPOSED TO

DEAR PROPOSED: If a woman doesn't know a man well enough to know whether he's sincere or bluffing, she doesn't know him well enough to marry him.

Castro Claims U.S. Aid Fails

Latin Alliance Comes under Fire

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro says that the United States has failed to make the Alliance for Progress work while Cuba is making economic strides without U.S. aid.

It is true that Cubans have ration books while other Latin-American countries do not, he said, "but this is so because we have taken care of all the people...not fed a small, rich minority."

Castro said the United States has been forced to admit its failure recently by telling Latin-American countries that much of its aid money had been squandered.

Speaking at a rally in Havana's Chaplin Theater marking the fifth anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion, Castro claimed Gubs is leading countries of the American continent, including the United States, in education and public health.

Despite this, Cuba still faces many problems, Castro said. There is still poverty and many people are poorly housed.

"Tens of thousands" of miles of road have yet to be constructed, hundreds of thousands of houses have to be built, many power installations are needed, water services have to be improved and industrial and agricultural problems have to be overcome, he said.

Castro said his regime was aiming for "the largest sugar harvest in the history of our country next year." This year's crop will fall short of its original goal of 6½-million tons due to the worst drought in 60 years, he continued, but next year "shall be without a doubt a great agricultural year, possibly the best in the eight years of the revolution."

Imperialism has "infantile illusions" that Cuba's Communist revolution is weak, Castro said, "but never has the revolution been stronger or more united."

Ohio BUC Opposes 2 Bills in Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The advisory council of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has gone on record as condemning two bills pending before Congress to change the control of employment service operations.

The seven-member council unanimously adopted a resolution Tuesday calling on members of Ohio's delegations in Congress to defeat the bills. The council said the bills would put all authority of the employment services in operation in the hands of the Secretary of Labor.

Castro Claims U.S. Aid Fails

Latin Alliance Comes under Fire

HAVANA (AP) —Prime Minister Fidel Castro says that the United States has failed to make the Alliance for Progress work while Cuba is making economic strides without U.S. aid.

It is true that Cubans have ration books while other Latin-American countries do not, he said, "but this is so because we have taken care of all the people...not fed a small, rich minority."

Castro said the United States has been forced to admit its failure recently by telling Latin-American countries that much of its aid money had been squandered.

Speaking at a rally in Havana's Chaplin Theater marking the fifth anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion, Castro claimed Cuba is leading countries of the American continent, including the United States, in education and public health.

Despite this, Cuba still faces many problems, Castro said. There is still poverty and many people are poorly housed.

"Tens of thousands" of miles of road have yet to be constructed, hundreds of thousands of houses have to be built, many power installations are needed, water services have to be improved and industrial and agricultural problems have to be overcome, he said.

Castro said his regime was aiming for "the largest sugar harvest in the history of our country next year." This year's crop will fall short of its original goal of 6½-million tons due to the worst drought in 60 years, he continued, but next year "shall be without a doubt a great agricultural year, possibly the best in the eight years of the revolution."

Imperialism has "infantile illusions" that Cuba's Communist revolution is weak, Castro said, "but never has the revolution been stronger or more united."

Ohio BUC Opposes 2 Bills in Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The advisory council of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has gone on record as condemning two bills pending before Congress to change the control of employment service operations.

The seven-member council unanimously adopted a resolution Tuesday calling on members of Ohio's delegations in Congress to defeat the bills. The council said the bills would put all authority of the employment services in operation in the hands of the Secretary of Labor.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — YU 3-5731

Ashville Marshal Glenn Clay returned to his home Monday from Mercy Hospital where he had been a patient for the past three weeks.

Cpl. Richard Shell of the State Highway Patrol will be the guest speaker at the Ashville - Harrison PTA meeting Thursday. His subject will be on safety. Open House will also be observed for grades three through eight.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance moved E. W. Chittum of Lockbourne Lodge to Doctors Hospital, Columbus, on April 16.

The annual Ashville - Harrison Alumni banquet will be held June 4. President Art Mershon has asked members of the alumni association not receiving invitations the past several years to contact him or Mrs. Gene Tosca.

Miss Mary Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, returned to her home Sunday from Mercy Hospital. A junior at Teays Valley, she underwent an emergency appendectomy last Wednesday.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bowers were their daughters and families, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Nicely and children of Akron, and Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Mansell of Lexington, Ky.

The annual Senior Citizens Tea given each year by the members of the Ashville Women's Civic Club was held April 17 in the First English Lutheran Church. Forty-six guests and 20 members enjoyed the event.

Guests were welcomed by the club president, Mrs. James Irwin. Words of welcome were also given by Rev. A. L. Drewes of the First English Lutheran Church and Rev. William Sherertz of the Methodist Church. A poem was given by James Brown.

Highlight of the program was presented by members of the Senior Citizens Recreation Center of Columbus. An orchestra presented several musical numbers and led in group singing. Napkin aprons were presented to all the Senior Citizen guests of Ashville and members of the orchestra. Cheese cake and coffee were served at decorated tables.

Program chairmen were Mrs. John Crumley and Mrs. James Brown. They were assisted by Mrs. John Downs and Mrs. Charles Helser.

Following a tea a short business meeting was held for members. Officers for the new year were elected. They are: president, Mrs. Roger Hedges; vice president, Mrs. Charls Morrison; recording secretary, Mrs. Hal Richard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Newman; treasurer, Mrs. Gene Von Ins; program chairman, Mrs. Donald Fliel. Serving on the program committee are Mrs. Warren Bastian, Mrs. William Snyder, Mrs. Stanley Bowers and Miss Kathaleen Switzer.

Pythian Sisters dinner guests of Mrs. Everett Peters on Tuesday were Mrs. Paul Jewell, past grand chief, Hamilton; Mrs. Jack Reynolds, grand treasurer, Seven Mile, O.; Mrs. Gerald

FDR, Winnie Both Hit by Heart Attacks

NEW YORK (AP) — Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt suffered unreported heart attacks during World War II, says Churchill's private physician.

Writing in the current Life magazine, Lord Moran says the late British prime minister had a heart attack while visiting Roosevelt at the White House Dec. 27, 1941, shortly after America entered the war.

Moran, who saw the American president at Yalta, wrote then that "to a doctor's eye, the President appears a very sick man. I give him only a few months to live." Roosevelt died two months later.

The day before leaving England for Yalta, Moran tells of receiving a letter from Lee, who wrote that "Roosevelt had heart failure eight months ago."

Lee, who had been president of the American College of Physicians and the American Medical Association, died last October.

Phone Company Plans Expansion At Williamsport

General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today that the Williamsport telephone building will be expanded to include an additional 150 square feet of floor space within the next month.

R. L. Keatley of Circleville, district commercial manager, said Baldauf Construction Inc. of Marion has already completed the footer and poured a concrete floor for the addition.

Keatley said the walls of the building addition will be constructed of Armco steel panels designed to match the present structure of the Williamsport building. The entire project should be completed about June 1.

The addition to the telephone exchange building will provide the needed floor space to install more switching facilities. The manager said plans are currently in the engineering stages and will be announced when the installation dates are established.

Tentative Agreement Is Reached in Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The strike launched March 31 at Superior Coach Corp. is about to end if United Auto Workers Local 711 members approve a tentative agreement reached Wednesday.

Some 1,100 employees of the bus body manufacturing concern have been idle in a dispute said to center on accumulated grievances.

provide for most of the basic needs of people? Should prayers and Bible readings be permitted in public schools?

Answers to these and seven more questions in similar vein indicate one's location in the political spectrum. At least that was the premise of NBC's "Testing: Right, Left or Center?" Wednesday night.

The idea of finding one's basic political posture is a very attractive one in a confusing period, but the quiz program actually devoted only a quarter of its 40 questions — and the final 20 minutes — to that particular pursuit.

The rest consisted of wide ranging questions about current issues. We were to note down our opinions and then were informed how the "public" — presorted by one of those national samplings of which television is so fond — felt about the issues.

The do-it-yourself test program is an interesting television idea, but in practice this most recent effort, like most of the previous ones, tried to cram too much material into the hour.

Danny Thomas, with considerable help from Bing Crosby, wound up his NBC season of specials with a good humored if uninspired spoof of the old Crosby-Hope "road" musicals. The show was called, of course, "The Road to Lebanon," and featured Arabian Nights girl dancers, a couple of live camels and some pretty bad jokes by the male stars.

The hour was handsomely produced with beautiful costumes, but it rambled on until, inevitably, Bob Hope rolled up in a golf cart. Sheldon Leonard, Thomas' business partner, was taking a holiday from producing, and managed to steal the show playing a Lebanese story teller.

It was not, unfortunately, Thomas' happiest show of the season, but then, there's always next year. Recommended Tonight: "Mickie Finn's," NBC, 9:30-10 EST, premier of a gay 90s musical show as a summer replacement.

Collegians' Pet Lion Outlawed by City Council

PIEDMONT, Calif. (AP) — Simba, Piedmont's friendly neighborhood lion, has been outlawed by the City Council. But not without a roar from his owners.

"He has never done any harm to anyone or any damage in the neighborhood," says Art Quaife, who shares a three-bedroom house with the big cat's co-owner,

Pete Clay—and the lion. Quaife and Clay, young graduate students in mathematics at the nearby University of California Berkeley campus describe the lion with such adjectives as "lovable," "cool" and "lion-hearted."

The Piedmont City Council describes Simba as a potential danger. They passed an ordinance Monday night banning lions throughout Piedmont, a San Francisco East Bay area residential community of 11,000. Simba is the only lion in town.

Simba's owners said the beast is just a babe in the woods—not a ferocious king of the jungle.

"The lion has visited the park, but on a leash and we let no one touch it," Quaife says. "It only runs loose in our house."

The students are retaining a lawyer to fight the ordinance. Quaife says that Simba, at 8 months, "is too young for a full-throated roar, although he tries." He was born in the Seattle zoo.

Although Simba is frisky and likes to chew up sofas and chair legs, he has nothing else more savage on his mind than gulping down 25 pounds of meat every day his owners assert.

The owners bought the lion six months ago from a Los Angeles animal supplier for films and circuses. Why?

"It's an experience living with a beast of the jungle and we'll keep him so long as we can," Quaife says. "When we can't, we figure he'll let us know."

The matter came before the City Council after Police Chief Lou Guider reported Simba had jumped a fence and was caught by some high school boys.

Regional Police Academies 'Needed'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe says there is a need for state-operated regional police academies to get good men and keep them.

Saxbe, addressing a group of 120 policemen Wednesday at an Ohio Peace Officer Training Council session, said state-operated regional academies could be installed at colleges or universities throughout the state and said graduates of such schools would be worth more salary.

Gypsy Seer Nabbed for Ohio Fraud

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI has announced the arrest in New York City Tuesday of a gypsy fortune teller wanted in connection with the $12,000 swindle of an elderly Cleveland couple.

Earl E. Brown, special agent in charge of the FBI in Cleveland, said Mrs. Rosie Eli, 48, known in Cleveland as Mrs. Anna Blake, was arrested on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Brown said she was arraigned before a U. S. District judge and ordered held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Cleveland police want Mrs. Eli in connection with the swindle of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gorkos. Mrs. Gorkos told police in November 1964 she gave the gypsy $100, returned the next day and got back $200. She continued to double large sums of money.

Eventually, Mrs. Gorkos told police she was giving as much as $1,300 to the woman, but no money was coming back.

She said the gypsy signed a note promising to repay $10,000 with interest by April 1 of 1965, and then disappeared.

Mrs. Gorkos said the money represented the life savings of her and her husband.

PIONEER FINDINGS PRESENTED—Preliminary scientific findings of Pioneer VI (above), in orbit about the Sun, are being presented to the American Geophysical Union meeting in Washington (April 19-22). During its first 2½ months in space, the satellite, designed to study the space between the planets, telemetered some 250 million readings from its six scientific instruments and appears to have measured features never before observed in the activity of the solar atmosphere.

Scientist Labels UFOs 'Nonsense'

BOSTON (AP) — A leading British space scientist, Sir Bernard Lovell, says the current furor in the United States over unidentified flying objects is "incredible nonsense."

"The UFOs," he said Tuesday night, "are natural phenomena or hoaxes. The people who see them must be tremendous emotionalists."

Sir Bernard, director of the Jodrell Bank Observatory and here on a speaking tour, added:

"Besides, does it ever occur to them that we have sent up a lot of things and that some of them might be coming back, such as nose cones and rockets?"

"Could anyone be seeing those?"

PIONEER FINDINGS PRESENTED—Preliminary scientific findings of Pioneer VI (above), in orbit about the Sun, are being presented to the American Geophysical Union meeting in Washington (April 19-22). During its first 2½ months in space, the satellite, designed to study the space between the planets, telemetered some 250 million readings from its six scientific instruments and appears to have measured features never before observed in the activity of the solar atmosphere.

UFOs 'Nonsense'

BOSTON (AP) — A leading British space scientist, Sir Bernard Lovell, says the current furor in the United States over unidentified flying objects is "incredible nonsense."

"The UFOs," he said Tuesday night, "are natural phenomena or hoaxes. The people who see them must be tremendous emotionalists."

Sir Bernard, director of the Jodrell Bank Observatory and here on a speaking tour, added:

"Besides, does it ever occur to them that we have sent up a lot of things and that some of them might be coming back, such as nose cones and rockets?"

"Could anyone be seeing those?"

Veteran Gardener Maintains Productive Vegetable Patch

According to Alonzo Estep, 89-year-old gardener who works energetically in his vegetable patch at 311 Clinton St. at the first sign of spring, the seasons have changed in the last 50 years.

He claims that winter hangs on until the middle of April. We interviewed Mr. Estep April 15 and the weather forecast for the night was 30 degrees. He thoughtfully changed the date to May first. Now winters stay until May.

"In the old days a person could count on getting out in the garden by the beginning of April, but not now," this gardener said.

Alonzo Estep was born in Kentucky in 1877 and moved to Ohio in 1915. He has always gardened. With a large family (there were 11 children) he and Mrs. Estep, to whom he has been married 68 years, have put in a lot of time on their various vegetable gardens.

MOST OF the present garden is planted now. It's a corner lot type and a good sizeable one for a town garden. Estep cultivates it with a hoe and he has a hand plow for breaking the soil.

Did he spade it by hand? Estep said not. He read the classified ads, called the telephone number given and a man with a tractor came and did the initial plowing. Estep looked his garden over. "That would take too much spading," he explained.

Potatoes have already been planted in this garden. Estep started things rolling during the warm spell in early March. He, has planted seven rows of potatoes, three of beans and three of corn. He had purchased sets for a small onion bed which he planted last Friday.

The Esteps produced 16 bushels of turnips last year. So they are tired of turnips even if they do know they are a healthful vegetable. Estep has decided against turnips for this year.

His wife, Christina, no longer does much in the garden but she enjoys and cooks the fresh produce. His daughter Frances, helps occasionally. But she, too, encourages her dad to keep up the gardening.

Alonzo and Mrs. Estep owned and lived on a farm near Laurelville. But he sold the farm in California Hollow and went to the Ben Yates farm near Williamsport.

HE SETTLED down as a farmer and baled straw for the strawboard. Later he moved to the Clark Hunsicker farm on Hickory end road in the Williamsport vicinity. He regards both his landlords with respect, and liked them equally.

We asked Estep if he remembered the mule teams the old strawboard used to keep for hauling straw. He remembered alright.

While we were talking to Estep we asked his neighbor, Mrs. William Niles, what kind of a gardener Estep was. Her reply was "The best." She said it's never too hot for him to cultivate the garden.

Mrs. Niles said that one year borderline trees were cut down. Their roots were interfering with Estep's gardening. It was the wonder of the neighborhood how he got after the roots with an axe.

In 68 years of married life, Alonzo Estep allowed only two seasons to go by without a vegetable patch. And we consider that a fine record.

BLOOMTIME FOR SIBERIAN SQUILLS — Mrs. Harold Hott, 554 N. Pickaway St., arrived home from a vacation in Florida to find her planting of Siberian Squills in full blossom. This little spring bulb starts blooming when it first emerges from the foliage (just about 2½ inches high). It remains in bloom for three or four weeks, growing taller and more beautiful as it ages. Now the blooms are possibly 10 inches high. Siberian Squills are a bright true blue with no hint of violet. Mrs. Hott says the squills which she started about four years ago multiply in a most satisfactory manner.

Siberian Squills Attractive At Harold Hott Residence

If gardeners wish to create a striking effect with plants there is no better way than to have a "lot of something."

And that's what the Harold Hotts have done with their Siberian squills. They have edged their foundation planting with these peacock blue flowers at their home, 554 N. Pickaway St.

Mrs. Hott happened to be reading her Flower Grower magazine and Siberian squills were recommended as edging. Bulbs were not purchased locally. Mrs. Hott believes they are not found too often in our stores.

She started with several dozen but in the four years she has had them they have multiplied ten fold.

MRS. HOTT has always loved blue flowers, which incidentally are scarce.

Siberian squills have a three to four week blooming period. In early spring the budding flower stalks are nestled down between the strap-like leaves. They will bloom when they are only about three inches high.

But the blossom stalk with its bright blue florets will grow until at maturity they are almost seven inches high. They are, however, bright and eye-catching just as soon as the bloom shows.

When the Hotts returned recently from Florida their Siberian squills were out in blossom to give a welcome. Now some two weeks later the flowers are still in bloom.

Neighbors say that they were enjoying the squills at least a week before the Hotts came home.

Mrs. Hickey Adds Cheerful Touch At Courthouse

COURTHOUSE WINDOW GARDEN — Mrs. Margaret Hickey, a Courthouse custodian, spares a brief moment with the plants in her window garden. The plants cheer up the dark hall on the ground floor. But Mrs. Hickey started the garden just to have a light cool place for some plants that were not thriving in her own home. The fact that they are cheerful and make a pleasing picture is more of a happen-so.

Late comers for license plates last week had a chance to see Mrs. Margaret Hickey's plant window on the ground floor of the Courthouse.

Mrs. Hickey, who has been Courthouse custodian for 28 years, has brightened the dreary hall for three years now with a fine array of blooming foliage plants. They are in a north window near the license plate office.

The plants appear to be in excellent condition. When we asked Mrs. Hickey what gave her the idea of cheering up the dismal hall with plant material, she said that her own home was too hot for houseplants. She brought a couple down for the wide Courthouse windowsill and found they did well there. "Not too much heat and plenty of light!"

The window sill is of marble. It is almost 30 inches wide and a good five feet long. Mrs. Hickey waters the plants each Saturday. She is too busy to pamper them.

Recently she added another shelf for her magnificent grape ivy plant which grows in a large 15-inch pot. She frequently has to trim this because the vine grows almost too much.

On the window shelf are a thriving little palm, an asparagus fern, a jar of wandering Jew, a croton plant and large begonia sparkling with blossoms.

A small pepper plant has white blooms on it. Two very small pickle plants were placed quite close to the window glass. Mrs. Hickey showed them to us at close range. Succulents, their leaves are just the shape of fat pickles!

Garden Book Is Designed For Travelers

An invaluable garden book for the European traveler is "Touring the Gardens of Europe."

Its author is Dorothy Lea McFadden. The book, published in 1965, gives complete directions for finding and visiting more than 840 gardens and flower shows in 18 different countries.

Author McFadden suggests if your interest lies in formal landscaping go to France and the Italian villa gardens. "But avoid these," Mrs. McFadden warns, "if your passion is flowers, for these are rather severe green gardens. Book a tour through England or one at tulip time in Holland instead."

One chapter is entitled "Key to Gardens." If you study this you can be sure of finding flowers at their best.

THIS seasoned traveler has hit upon another innovation. She has devised a "wheel tour" whereby one may find headquarters from which to fan out and visit many vicinity gardens that could rather easily be missed.

The fact that it is up-to-date is of immense help. Each chapter ends with a listing of useful information. Addresses are given where one may write for further information.

This book is available at the Pickaway County District Library. But if you have a friend planning a trip abroad, no more appropriate gift can be imagined. Give it early if you can, when the trip is still in its planning stage.

waxy oak leaf like foliage was given her by Rose Davis who presides over the office at the end of the hall. Neither Mrs. Davis nor Mrs. Hickey know the name of this plant. But it has grown to a size of 2 by 2½ feet.

This plant serves as a sort of water gauge. When its leaves droop it's time to give all the plants a drink.

And that's the story of how a big wide window sill in the Courthouse became a place of cheer in the busy, darkish hall where we all go for our license plates.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Harry Wright, Route 1, Circleville, reports sadly that the good old days are gone when she could run out with a blanket and cover her magnolia when freezing weather came along. The magnolia is much too large now. Odessa was bewailing the fact that frost gets the magnolias just about every year.

Sometimes it seems as though this is true. I believe magnolia owners figure that blooms are ruined by frost three out of four years.

However, Odessa Wright has a beautiful hoyia plant that is blooming profusely this year. This vining plant has quite a lot of age to it and Mrs. Wright believes that she had been trimming it too much and snipped off the bloom. Hoyia is very fragrant as well as beautiful.

Ruth Shelby, 322 E. Mill St., says that her tulip bulbs were coming along fine until something ate the foliage completely off.

Offhand we'd say the rabbits did it. Groundhogs, too, have been known to do such tricks.

Mrs. Franklin Crites reports that their dog proved to be pretty rough on a nest of young rabbits. The Crites put up snow fence around the little family with a hole just large enough for the mother bunny to get in and out. The little family is doing well.

Margaret Crites says that the crocuses at the sheriff's office were charming to behold with four colors in all. She was looking forward to tulip time and the tulips have just not put in their appearance. She wants to know what happened? The garden editor believes there is no safer bet than tulip bulbs the first year. Ordinarily if you plant a bulb you'll get a tulip the following spring. Perhaps not the second year but the first year, yes.

A few years ago moles were thought to be responsible for the disappearance of tulip bulbs. But they have been exterminated recently. It's now believed to be field mice that frequent tunnels made by moles.

Mrs. Harold Hott, N. Pickaway St., had to dig up her daffodil bulbs to make way for a new garage. With this and that coming up she did not get her bulbs replanted. She wanted to know if it were too late. Yes, it is too late! On the other hand there is nothing like trying. We advised her to bury the bulbs and fertilize heavily when the foliage showed. We feel there's a slim chance for success.

One year Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart arrived at the rose show with spring blooming daffodils. These were ones she had forgotten to plant in the fall. The flowers were fine and large, too. The bloom date was simply delayed. This was a stroke of good luck. Believe me the experts will tell you to plant daffodils early in the fall or forget the deal. Still there's nothing like trying.

This winter I caught sight of a cardinal flitting among the evergreens so just for kicks I purchased sunflower seeds for the feeder. Nothing happened until the big snow which came in about two weeks. The second day of the snow the birds came — and by the hundreds. At first just the sparrows and starlings! Eventually many different ones. Seed Container Offers Directions For Arrangement

Call it a gimmick if you like, but one of the large seed companies has hit upon an ingenious idea for flower arrangers. Stamped on the front of the seed packet is a notice "Save this packet. Flower arrangement inside."

When the packet is opened a diagram and directions for making a flower are found.

The packet of Forest Fire celosia seeds, for instance, has suggestions for making an arrangement named "oriental charm." Directions tell you exactly where to place each stem of celosia which you are to have successfully grown.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is in one of the most unhappy moments of its history and knows it and so do its friends, critics, Democrats, Republicans, Chinese, Vietnamese, and even Eskimos if they get a daily newspaper or listen to a radio.

But, for that matter, this is not pleasant spring weather for the Republicans, either.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, House Republican leader, never dreaming he might be tackled by one of his own teammates, decided it was a good time to charge through the center of the Johnson administration by accusing it of "shocking mismanagement of the war" in Viet Nam and a shipping tie-up there.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called this "baloney." He said there was no bomb shortage and supply unloading was normal. His deputy secretary, Cyrus R. Vance, conceded there had been a shipping bottleneck last November. This Mr. Ford took five months behind time.

Then Ford's teammate, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, got into the act, complaining that fellow-Republican Ford went pretty far with his charge of "shocking mismanagement." He asked: "Who are the shocked?" and a lot more.

All of which goes to show that the Republicans, like the Democrats, are at sixes and sevens over the war.

McNamara forecast new political discord in South Viet Nam, as might have been guessed from some of the statements coming out of the Johnson administration in the past few days, which seems to be looking every which way.

And if you couldn't figure exactly what they meant, or where they might be looking, maybe the administration couldn't, either.

For instance, McNamara raised one of the strangest questions of the war Wednesday when he said Americans would not try to prevent the Communist Viet Cong from participating in the elections of South Viet Nam if they tried to do so peacefully. Would they be permitted to cross the military lines to head south, provided they carried no weapons? Would that be the only test? But what if they had weapons cached in the south? How could they be identified as South Vietnamese with a right to vote at all? There are many questions that could be asked.

McNamara said it would make no difference to this country if South Viet Nam went neutral. Wouldn't it? If it chose neutrality it might do so under Communist influence and soon choose to become Communist. Then what was all the fighting for? Last weekend Secretary of State Dean Rusk's long-range philosophy of dealing with Red China was revealed: No hope of changing the aggressiveness of the present leadership in the foreseeable future.

But in the years ahead, perhaps with new leaders and by firmness and good will, there might be an era of good relations. Then Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield got an idea, which was not exactly new: Let's try for a peace conference with Red China and North Viet Nam.

Fine, said the Johnson administration, let's try. But anyone watching U.S.-Chinese relations for years, and the futile efforts to get peace talks with North Viet Nam, wouldn't bet on the chance.

This is one of the greatest international foul-ups of modern times.

Color Test Planned on Ohio Highway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highways paved in color are going to get a try-out in Ohio.

P. E. Masheter, state highway director, said his department will conduct the project in cooperation with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Masheter believes such highways would be eye-catching, a factor giving color highways their greatest potential—safety. The test involves green and yellow paving of three Franklin County intersections, Ohio 3 at Innis Road, Ohio 16 at Waggoner Road and U.S. 33 at Hayden Run Road, all near Columbus.

The colored paving will be installed during the week of May

16. Left hand lanes will be green, while island areas will be yellow.

Colored paving material is a light-colored plastic or binder which behaves much like asphalt and is mixed and placed in much the same manner.

C of C Panel Hears Facts On CIC Unit

A detailed description of functions pursued by a localized community improvement corporation was presented for the benefit of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Area Development Committee.

Offering a rundown on various aspects of such an organization was William A. Losoncy, finance director for the Ohio Development Department. The Chamber has been studying the possibilities of forming a CIC here.

Losoncy defined a community improvement corporation as a body designed to promote location of new industries by making favorable financing available to firms desiring to build. He said the formation of a CIC involves simple procedures in becoming an effective organization.

Robert Keatley, area development chairman, said his panel will compile essential facts relative to a CIC here and present them, along with a recommendation to the Chamber's Board of Directors for final action. This probably will be done at the May 3 board meeting.

PICKAWAY is listed as one of 14 counties in Ohio without a community improvement corporation.

Earl Palm, chamber president, suggested the State Development Department make it a matter of record that Pickaway has the organization of a CIC under consideration and has the necessary qualifications for establishment. Losoncy indicated this could be done.

Also participating in the luncheon session at Tink's Tavern were area development members Eldred Parsons, H. Newell Stevenson, Paul Smallwood and Mrs. E. R. Bennett, Chamber manager.

New Paper Setup Faces Union Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The merger of three New York City newspapers set for Monday has been approved by the U.S. Justice Department but a contract dispute threatens to result in this city's third major newspaper strike in less than four years.

Representatives of both labor and management were equally gloomy over whether World Journal Tribune Inc. would publish as scheduled.

Talks between the two sides broke down Wednesday several hours before the Justice Department in Washington gave a qualified go-ahead to the merger but reserved the right to challenge it if such action is warranted in the future.

"I doubt seriously if we can publish Monday," said Matt Meyer, president of the new corporation.

The executive vice president of the New York Newspaper Guild, Thomas J. Murphy, said a strike will probably begin Sunday if 10 newspaper unions are still without contracts. However, no deadline for a strike has been set.

These sentiments were echoed by Theodore W. Kheel, veteran newspaper mediator, who said: "It seems to me that a strike is now unavoidable and the only

Racial Troubleshooters Tied to Justice Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roger Wilkins has his wish. After midnight tonight, he and his racial troubleshooting agency will be "where the action is" — in the Department of Justice.

The last obstacle to the transfer of the Community Relations Service out of the Commerce Department was removed Wednesday. The House defeated, 220 to 163, a resolution opposing the move. The Senate had done so earlier.

Thus the Justice Department and Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach shoulder even a greater share of the federal civil rights burden, which has focused more and more in recent years on the President's chief law enforcement agency.

"This is where we belong," Wilkins, 34, said after the vote. "This is where the action is, in civil rights. And I want this agency to be squarely in the middle of significant civil rights activities—not on the periphery."

The transfer—President Johnson's first, even if small, civil rights victory in Congress this year—was approved over large Republican objections that the government's mediation arm should not be in the same agency as its prosecutor.

In a literal sense, it won't be under the same roof. The agency moved on Feb. 14 into a Justice Department-leased office building.

Wilkins, Katzenbach and other supporters of the transfer contend the Community Relations Service soon became an orphan in the Commerce Department after the service was created under the 1964 civil rights law but a contract rights act.

Placed in Commerce because of anticipated resistance to the public accommodations provision of the law, the service soon found that businessmen were voluntarily complying at an unforeseen pace.

The service — usually known by its initials, CRS — says it has worked in 294 communities in 36 states since it was created to give the government an opportunity to try to head off racial tension through conciliation and mediation.

It has an authorized strength of 67 men, but President Johnson has asked Congress to increase the manpower allotment to 100 and the budget from $1.3 to $2 million.

Business Briefs

Durward D. Dowden, president of the Second National Bank, was a guest Wednesday of the General Telephone Co. at a luncheon honoring Donald C. Power, chairman of the board of directors, and Leslie H. Warner, president of General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

The event was held at the Country Club in Marion, O. Sales and earnings of Owens-Illinois, Inc., rose to all-time first quarter highs during the three months ended March 31. J. P. Lewis, chairman of the board, reported to shareholders at the annual meeting today.

Sales were $209,091,922, slightly more than four per cent above 1965 first quarter sales of $200,395,946. Earnings after taxes rose 7.6 per cent to $12,430,225, compared with $11,550,842 for the same period last year.

After preferred dividend requirements, earnings per common share were 80 cents, compared to 75 cents in the first quarter of 1965. Earnings for 1965 were restated to reflect the change in depreciation adopted last December, for book and financial reporting only, as well as to reflect Owens-Illinois' 50 per cent share in the earnings of National Petro Chemicals Corp.

Jim Leist, owner of The Savings Barn, 135 W. Water St., has been appointed Pickaway County's only authorized dealer for Mary Carter Paints.

Leist noted that his firm will handle both interior and exterior paints in 2,000 colors.

The Savings Barn is now celebrating its grand opening through Saturday. Prizes are being awarded by registering at the store.

Seal Donations Still Accepted

Contributions to the 1966 Easter Seal Campaign which benefits the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults are still being accepted, according to Mrs. Elliott Mason, 108 Reber Ave.

Donations may be mailed to her or given to any member of the organization.

The group will meet 1:30 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Mason.

question is how it can be brought to an end as quickly as possible."

Ohio Primary Poll Cost Set At $2-3 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An army of about 140,000 will count votes in the May 3 Primary Election — one for about every 10 ballots cast—at a cost of $2-$3 million.

That estimate was based today on figures from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's top election official who is the state's biggest "employer" on election day.

He said election boards in the state's 88 counties will hire 140,000 workers to handle a turnout he estimated earlier at 1,310,000—little more than 20 per cent of the Ohioans who could qualify to vote.

Salaries set by state law range from $15-$24 a day, so election boards will have a payroll tab of $2-$3 million. That's more than $2 a vote just for the counting.

It was next to impossible to calculate costs such as printing, telephone, and other services on a statewide basis, officials said, explaining that each county sets up and pays for its own election machinery within general guidelines or state law.

Ohio has more than 13,000 polling places.

An estimated 100,150 persons will be on hand in Brown's office on election night, but many of them will be volunteers working without pay.

Brown does bolster his staff of about two dozen with counting and tabulation specialists, most of whom work at Columbus area banks as automatic equipment and adding machine operators.

County election boards take returns from precincts and telephone their accumulative totals to Columbus throughout the evening. They do this voluntarily, since state law requires only that they postunofficial results and send them to Columbus by mail.

Election boards have 10 days to make official tabulations which are mailed to Columbus for Brown to make the official statewide count. His canvass is witnessed by the governor, state auditor, attorney general, and the state chairman of the two political parties.

Results may come a little faster this year because of the addition of about 1,000 voting machines in traditionally slow and heavily populated Cuyahoga County (Cleveland). Cuyahoga now has about 2,000 machines but needs 6,000 more to serve 749,000 registered voters.

Only 21 of the 88 counties have mechanical voting equipment but they include all but one of the state's major population centers, Summit County (Akron).

Annual Peabody Awards Made for Top TV Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Television coverage of Pope Paul's historic visit to New York and the war in Viet Nam figured high today in the 26th annual presentation of the George Foster Peabody Awards for distinguished achievement by television and radio.

In television news, the winners were Frank McGee, of NBC; Morley Safer of CBS and Station KTLA, Los Angeles. McGee was cited for his "superb descriptions" of the Pope's visit and as anchor man at the NBC news space center. Safer's reports from the Viet Nam battlefield were honored for their "journalistic integrity and honesty, sensitivity and forcefulness."

Station KTLA received an award for covering the Watts riots of 1965.

The winners in the television entertainment category were "The Julie Andrews Show," NBC; the Barbra Streisand special, "My Name Is Barbra,"

CBS, and "Frank Sinatra — A Man and His Music," NBC. All were special, one-hour shows. "A Charlie Brown Christmas," CBS, was the winner among television youth and children's programs. It was taken from the Charles Schulz comic strip "Peanuts."

A special award was made for the ABC show, "A Visit to Washington With Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson — on Behalf of a More Beautiful America," Mrs. Johnson also was to present the awards at the luncheon meeting.

In the category of television public service, the CBS Reports show, "KKK — The Invisible Empire," was honored as a devastating light "on America's most shameful hate group."

CBS' show "The National Driver's Test" was called the forerunner in television innovation in 1965. The program permitted millions of viewers to sit in their homes and check their driving judgment, knowledge and perception.

The National Educational Television network received the Peabody Award for the most distinguished performance in educational broadcasting. The network was cited for several social documentaries.

C of C Panel Hears Facts On CIC Unit

A detailed description of functions pursued by a localized community improvement corporation was presented for the benefit of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Area Development Committee.

Offering a rundown on various aspects of such an organization was William A. Losoney, finance division director for the Ohio Development Department. The Chamber has been studying the possibilities of forming a CIC here.

Losoney defined a community improvement corporation as a body designed to promote location of new industries by making favorable financing available to firms desiring to build. He said the formation of a CIC involves simple procedures in becoming an effective organization.

Robert Keatley, area development chairman, said his panel will compile essential facts relative to a CIC here and present them, along with a recommendation to the Chamber's Board of Directors for final action. This probably will be done at the May 3 board meeting.

PICKAWAY is listed as one of 14 counties in Ohio without a community improvement corporation.

Earl Palm, chamber president, suggested the State Development Department make it a matter of record that Pickaway has the organization of a CIC under consideration and has the necessary qualifications for establishment. Losoney indicated this could be done.

Also participating in the luncheon session at Tink's Tavern were area development members Eldred Parsons, H. Newell Stevenson, Paul Smallwood and Mrs. E. R. Bennett, Chamber manager.

New Paper Setup Faces Union Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The merger of three New York City newspapers set for Monday has been approved by the U.S. Justice Department but a contract dispute threatens to result in this city's third major newspaper strike in less than four years.

Representatives of both labor and management were equally gloomy over whether World Journal Tribune Inc. would publish as scheduled.

Talks between the two sides broke down Wednesday several hours before the Justice Department in Washington gave a qualified go-ahead to the merger but reserved the right to challenge it if such action is warranted in the future.

"I doubt seriously if we can publish Monday," said Matt Meyer, president of the new corporation.

The executive vice president of the New York Newspaper Guild, Thomas J. Murphy, said a strike will probably begin Sunday if 10 newspaper unions are still without contracts. However, no deadline for a strike has been set.

These sentiments were echoed by Theodore W. Kheel, veteran newspaper mediator, who said: "It seems to me that a strike is now unavoidable and the only

Racial Troubleshooters Tied to Justice Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roger Wilkins has his wish. After midnight tonight, he and his racial troubleshooting agency will be "where the action is" — in the Department of Justice.

The last obstacle to the transfer of the Community Relations Service out of the Commerce Department was removed Wednesday. The House defeated, 220 to 163, a resolution opposing the move. The Senate had done so earlier.

Thus the Justice Department and Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach shoulder even a greater share of the federal civil rights burden, which has focused more and more in recent years on the President's chief law enforcement agency.

"This is where we belong," Wilkins, 34, said after the vote. "This is where the action is, in civil rights. And I want this

Durward D. Dowden, president of the Second National Bank, was a guest Wednesday of the General Telephone Co. at a luncheon honoring Donald C. Power, chairman of the board of directors, and Leslie H. Warner, president of General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

The event was held at the Country Club in Marion, O.

Sales and earnings of Owens-Illinois, Inc., rose to all-time first quarter highs during the three months ended March 31. J. P. Levis, chairman of the board, reported to shareholders at the annual meeting today.

Sales were $209,091,922, slightly more than four per cent above 1965 first quarter sales of $200,395,946. Earnings after taxes rose 7.6 per cent to $12,430,225, compared with $11,550,842 for the same period last year.

After preferred dividend requirements, earnings per common share were 80 cents, compared to 75 cents in the first quarter of 1965. Earnings for 1965 were restated to reflect the change in depreciation adopted last December, for book and financial reporting only, as well as to reflect Owens-Illinois' 50 per cent share in the earnings of National Petro Chemicals Corp.

Jim Leist, owner of The Savings Barn, 135 W. Water St., has been appointed Pickaway County's only authorized dealer for Mary Carter Paints.

Leist noted that his firm will handle both interior and exterior paints in 2,000 colors.

The Savings Barn is now celebrating its grand opening through Saturday. Prizes are being awarded by registering at the store.

Ohio Primary Poll Cost Set At $2-3 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An army of about 140,000 will count votes in the May 3 Primary Election — one for about every 10 ballots cast—at a cost of $2-$3 million.

That estimate was based today on figures from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's top election official who is the state's biggest "employer" on election day.

He said election boards in the state's 88 counties will hire 140,000 workers to handle a turnout he estimated earlier at 1,310,000—little more than 20 per cent of the Ohioans who could qualify to vote.

Salaries set by state law range from $15-$24 a day, so election boards will have a payroll tab of $2-$3 million. That's more than $2 a vote just for the counting.

It was next to impossible to calculate costs such as printing, telephone, and other services on a statewide basis, officials said, explaining that each county sets up and pays for its own election machinery within general guidelines or state law.

Ohio has more than 13,000 polling places.

An estimated 100,150 persons will be on hand in Brown's office on election night, but many of them will be volunteers working without pay.

Brown does bolster his staff of about two dozen with counting and tabulation specialists, most of whom work at Columbus area banks as automatic equipment and adding machine operators.

County election boards take returns from precincts and telephone their accumulative totals to Columbus throughout the evening. They do this voluntarily, since state law requires only that they postunofficial results and send them to Columbus by mail.

Election boards have 10 days to make official tabulations which are mailed to Columbus for Brown to make the official statewide count. His canvass is witnessed by the governor, state auditor, attorney general, and the state chairman of the two political parties.

Results may come a little faster this year because of the addition of about 1,000 voting machines in traditionally slow and heavily populated Cuyahoga County (Cleveland). Cuyahoga now has about 2,000 machines but needs 6,000 more to serve 749,000 registered voters.

Only 21 of the 88 counties have mechanical voting equipment but they include all but one of the state's major population centers, Summit County (Akron).

Vultures are great blackish eagle-like birds with small naked heads, as distinguished from the larger, well-proportioned heads of eagles and hawks.

Annual Peabody Awards Made for Top TV Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Television coverage of Pope Paul's historic visit to New York and the war in Viet Nam figured high today in the 26th annual presentation of the George Foster Peabody Awards for distinguished achievement by television and radio.

In television news, the winners were Frank McGee, of NBC; Morley Safer of CBS and Station KTLA, Los Angeles.

McGee was cited for his "superb descriptions" of the Pope's visit and as anchor man at the NBC news space center. Safer's reports from the Viet Nam battlefront were honored for their "journalistic integrity and honesty, sensitivity and forcefulness."

Station KTLA received an award for covering the Watts riots of 1965.

The winners in the television entertainment category were "The Julie Andrews Show," NBC; the Barbra Streisand special, "My Name Is Barbra," CBS, and "Frank Sinatra — A Man and His Music," NBC. All were special, one-hour shows.

"A Charlie Brown Christmas," CBS, was the winner among television youth and children's programs. It was taken from the Charles Schulz comic strip "Peanuts."

A special award was made for the ABC show, "A Visit to Washington With Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson — on Behalf of a More Beautiful America," Mrs. Johnson also was to present the awards at the luncheon meeting.

In the category of television public service, the CBS Reports show, "KKK — The Invisible Empire," was honored as a devastating light "on America's most shameful hate group."

CBS' show "The National Driver's Test" was called the forerunner in television innovation in 1965. The program permitted millions of viewers to sit in their homes and check their driving judgment, knowledge and perception.

The National Educational Television network received the Peabody Award for the most distinguished performance in educational broadcasting. The network was cited for several social documentaries.

CIRCLEVILLE — OHIO

4 Defending Champs Due
A Ohio State's Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A glittering array of runners and jumpers, including at least four defending champions, are booked for Ohio State's annual relays Saturday.

The usually bulky field has been cut to 600 for the classy carnival with seven Big Ten schools among the 22 colleges, 11 high schools and three track clubs scheduled to compete.

The 21-event program in Ohio Stadium gets underway with preliminaries in the morning with finals set to go at 12:40 p.m.

In addition to the trackmen who won here a year ago, nine Big Ten indoor champions also are entered.

Individual titlists include Ernie Soudek of the Ann Arbor Track Club, who won the Relays discus title with a throw of 184 feet, 7 inches and Al Carius of the Chicago Track Club, who captured last year's mile run. Carius also boasts the nation's best time this year in the steeplechase with an 8:48.7 clocking.

Jack Bachelor of Miami (Ohio), who won the steeplechase in the 1965 meet, is back again as is Hamilton Lipscomb of Central (Ohio) State, the 880 victor.

Other standouts include Dennis Holland, formerly of Western Michigan who looms as a threat in the triple jump; Darnell Mitchell, formerly of Ohio University and a strong half miler; Ken Anderson of Eastern Kentucky who has posted a 4:05 mile this year and his teammate, Wilbur Davis, who has pole vaulted 15 feet, 8 inches.

Big Ten indoor king Michigan State has a host of strong entries including Gene Washington in the hurdles; Mike Bowers, who has cleared 6-10 in the high jump; Keith Coates, an impressive miler and Jim Garrett, a fine dash man who won the big ten indoor long jump last year with a leap of 24 feet, 7 inches.

Central State's Martin McGrady, the world recordholder in the 600, heads up the Marauder's strong relay team that copped the two-mile relay at last week's Ohio University relays.

Whitfield HR
Again Spells
Loss for Bombers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Johnny Keane supposedly has had a little talk with his New York Yankees. He might meet with more success if he had a long talk with Fred Whitfield.

Keane has minimized his meeting with the Yankees, but there was no way to minimize Whitfield's bat Wednesday night as the Cleveland first baseman continued his one-man assault on New York pitching by hammering a game-winning homer in the Indians' 4-2 victory.

Apparently upset at the Yankees' dismal start, Keane reportedly blasted the players in a behind-closed-doors meeting before the Cleveland series got underway. But he didn't place any special emphasis on the session.

Tuesday night, Whitfield provided all of Cleveland's runs with a homer in a 3-1 victory over New York, then Wednesday night he hit a two-run smash in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie and gave the unbeaten Indians their sixth victory.

Whitfield murdered Yankee pitching last year, hitting 10 of his 26 homers against New York, and his latest homers have nailed the Yankees into last place in the American League with a 1-7 record — the worst in either league.

Elsewhere, Baltimore rode the hitting of Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio to a 6-3 victory over Washington, Tony Conigliaro hit his first homer as Boston tripped Detroit 5-3 and California edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 11 innings. Minnesota and Kansas City were rained out.

In the National League, Atlanta walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The San Francisco-Chicago and St. Louis-New York games were rained out.

On his way through Kentucky, he stopped at a horse sale and purchased his first harness horses.

Included in that initial purchase was Belle Mahone, the broodmare whose progeny have played such an important role in Kirk's success.

Kirk feels his best horse during the years is Great Pleasure, a 10-year-old trotting mare that has won $167,000 and is still racing. She has a record of 2:00.

THE FASTEST horse he has owned and trained is Times Square, a pacer that took a record of 1:58.1. Now owned by Eddie Kirk, Times Square is a grandson of Belle Mahone.

Another one of Kirk's horses with a good mark was Flaming Arrow, who paced the mile in 1:58.2. He has trained and owned nine horses that have broken the two minute barrier.

Kirk is training 22 of his own horses at his harness horse plant.

Harley Mace has Startena's Demon, a 7-year-old son of Steam-Demon; Belle Butler, a 3-year-old pacer by Adios Butler and Surprise Visitor, a 2-year-old colt by Duke Yates.

Carl Britton is training Carla B, a 5-year-old bay pacing mare and Pearl B, a 5-year-old trotting mare at the track. The pacer has taken a record of 2:06.2 and the latter a mark of 2:09.4.

Jim McWilliams is training Miss Jim Will at Kirk's track.

Terrell-Jones
Match Due
In July

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernie Terrell will defend his World Boxing Association heavyweight title against Doug Jones in Houston sometime in June.

WBA President Jim Deskin has sanctioned the fight.

Jones is ranked No. 2 by the WBA which recognizes Terrell and not Cassius Clay as the world champion.

Earl Gilliam, Texas Boxing Enterprises promoter, announced Wednesday that Terrell and Jones had signed contracts for the 15-round bout.

The fight is expected to be held in the 12,000-seat Sam Houston Coliseum, but Gilliam did not rule out the Harris County Domes Stadium which seats 66,000 for boxing. The exact date in June was to be announced later.

Gilliam said Terrell had been guaranteed in excess of $100,000 for the fight, which would be his third defense of the WBA title he won early last year. Jones' guarantee was not disclosed.

Terrell, 27, from Chicago, has a record of 38 victories, including 18 knockouts. His last defeat was a seventh round knockout by Williams in 1962.

Jones, 29, of New York, has a 27-5 record and is working on a string of five knockouts. One of his knockouts was over Zora Foley, the WBA No. 1 contender, who also lost to Terrell by decision.

Sanders, Brewer
Favored in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The $85,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament begins today with its finest field despite the absence of such big names as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer, hottest players on the tour and ranking No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in money — winnings, are the favorites.

And if either wins the $15,000 first money it will mean the Dallas contingent has come through. Eleven pros from Dallas are in the field of 145, and Brewer and Sanders are among them.

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — The Women's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament moved into today's semifinals with the Ohio entrants eliminated.

The last Buckeye survivor, Bonnie Sue Andrie of Mogadore, lost to Mrs. Horton Semple 1 up, in the third round.

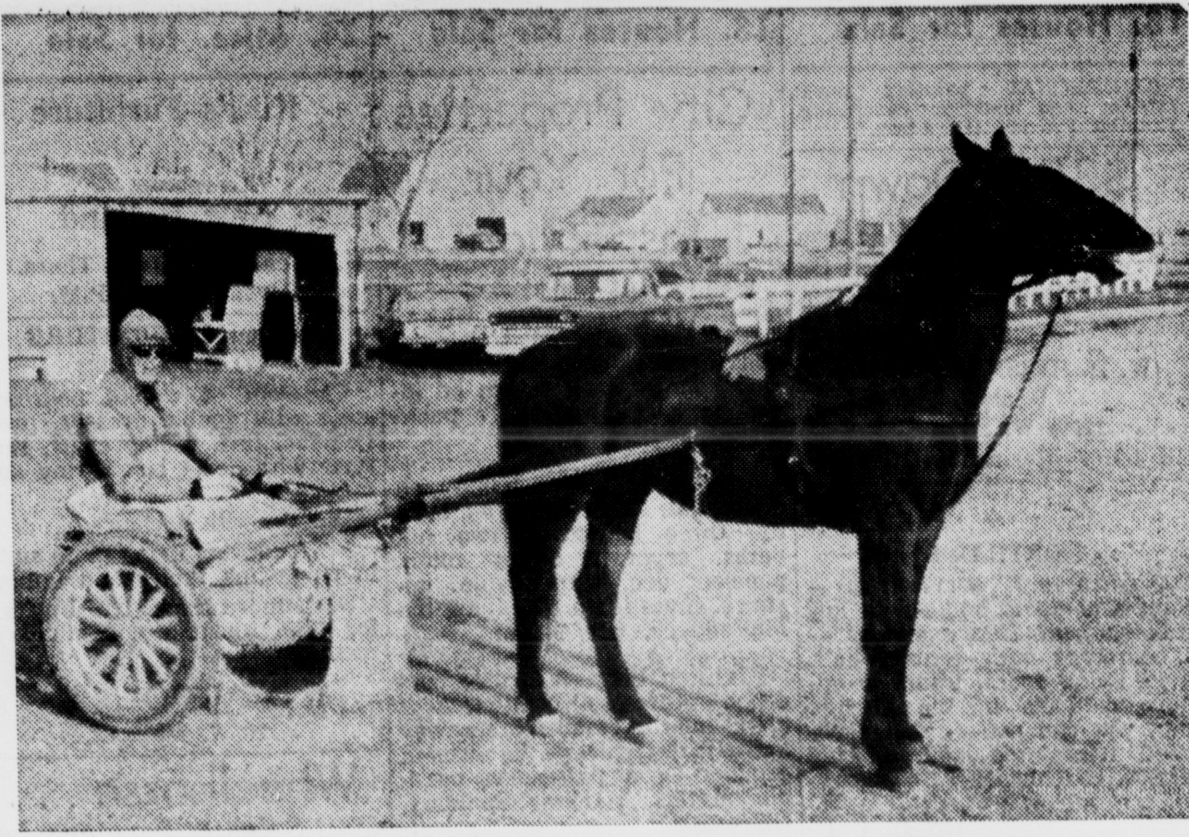

Miss Andrie lost Wednesday after winning a second round match from Mrs. J. Albert Hayes, 1 up on 19 holes in the morning. Judy Rand of Aurora bowed to Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms 2 and 1, while Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth fell before Mrs. Helen Sigel Wilson 4 and 3 in the second round.

McKinley Kirk Will Enter
Six Pacers in Matinee

By STEVE JONES

One of Ohio's best known names in harness field will fill a race for the Pickaway County Harness Matinee Sunday with six pacers from his own stable.

McKinley Kirk is bringing Jacques C., Mr. President, Tattler, Duke C, Bunk's Dream and Grand Harry here. All will be entered in the second race — the second and fifth heats of the afternoon's card.

Posttime Sunday is 1:30 p.m. Kirk was born in New Holland and owns a 500-acre farm, complete with training track in Pickaway County.

HE CLAIMS Washington C.H., where he now lives, as his home. He is a member of the board of directors of the United States Trotting Assn.

John Fissell, Pickaway race secretary, notes that Kirk has always been a staunch supporter of racing in Pickaway County. He annually has entries in the fair and the Matinee here.

Kirk entered the sport of harness racing in 1942. He had lived in Florida for two years previous to that, decided he didn't like it and started home.

On his way through Kentucky, he stopped at a horse

Coachless
Army Gets Grid Help

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army men are coming out to help put a coachless West Point football team together for next fall.

"We're moving right along with our spring drills," Tom Cahill, who has coached the Army freshman for the last six years, said today. "The morale is good, attitude excellent and we're getting the work done."

Cahill, a 46-year-old former infantry officer, and Tad Schroeder, quarterback coach, were the only assistants remaining when Paul Dietzel quit earlier this month and took five aides with him to the University of South Carolina.

That left Army facing spring drills without a head coach and Cahill said. "We have managed very well, thanks to the volunteer help of officers around the base who formerly played football here."

Lt. Col. Bill Webb, a tackle on the wartime teams of Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, is handling the defense. Maj. Pete Lash, a back under Red Blaik, is assisting with the backfield. Maj. Joe Franklin, who played in the mid-50s, is working with the offensive line and Capt. Art Johnson, an Army player in 1956-57, is helping coach the ends. Lt. Cammie Lewis, son of the late Coach Pappy Lewis, is working with the quarterbacks.

Redleg Losing Streak Continues

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds came close to ending their losing streak Wednesday night. But close doesn't count.

The Reds dropped their fourth straight game, losing 3-2 to the Pittsburgh Pirates when Jose Pagan's pinch hit sacrifice fly with the bases loaded knocked in the winning run in the last of the ninth.

It was only the second time Pagan has batted against the Reds this season, but both times he's brought victory to the Pirates. Monday night, his two-run pinch double beat Cincinnati 4-3.

Bill Dore' Gains
2nd Win with 5-3
Decision over FHHS

Teays Valley rolled to a 5-3 decision over Franklin Heights Wednesday on the losers' diamond in a Metropolitan League baseball game.

It marked the second league win for the Vikings who now have posted four victories in five starts.

Franklin Heights is 1-1 in the league. Bill Dore' was the winning hurler. He went the route for the winners. Breezing a third strike past six batters and walking only one. He allowed five hits.

It marked the second win for Dore' in as many starts this season — both in the Metro League.

Dave Cook was the leading hitter in the Teays Valley attack, cracking a double and a single and driving in one run. Butch Kinsell batted in a run and Bill Dore' helped his own cause with two RBIs on a second inning single.

Sherman Griffith was the leading hitter for the Falcons, going two-for-three at the plate. The Falcons used a trio of hurriers in the tilt. They were Landes, Malone and Pless.

Westfall Clips
A-C Aces, 4-2

Westfall defeated visiting Amanda - Clearcreek, 4-2, yesterday behind the two-hit pitching performance by Neil Coleman.

The Aces scored both their runs in the first inning. An error and a homerun by Phil Smith accounted for the tallies.

Coleman fanned 10 and walked three.

Smith fanned 12, gave up three walks and was touched for four hits. The Aces had five stolen bases and the Mustangs eight.

WESTFALL'S big inning was in the third when Coleman led off with a single. Tom Hamman was walked and Rod Stapleton blasted a triple. Stapleton then scored on a passed ball.

In the fourth frame Richard Mason cracked a triple, then stole home to end the scoring.

The next game for Westfall is scheduled 1 p. m. Saturday at Zane Trace High School.

Elliotts Winners
In Pin Event

Dallas and Ruth Elliott won top honors in the second annual Knights of Columbus Mixed Complex Bowling tournament at Circle D Lanes.

The Elliotts rolled a 1278 series, with handicap. Dallas Elliott also won top individual honors with a 291 single and a 736 series.

In the women's class, Stelle O'Hara won top individual honors with a 219 single and a 629 series.

In the team events, second place went to Jim and Linda McConnell, third to Fiske and Stelle O'Hara, fourth to Steve and Jean Brudzinski and fifth to Bill and Norman Jean Rich.

Loss in SCO Loop

Wilmington's Cliff Price, a senior righthander, spun a masterful one-hit shutout over the Circleville High School baseball team Wednesday at Ted Lewis Park as the Hurricane romped to a 7-0 decision.

It was the first win of the season for the visiting Clinton County team. It was the fifth loss in as many starts for Chuck Hill's nine.

The Tigers were unable to solve Price's assortment of curves and changeups and could not get the clean hits.

Wilmington played alertly on defense, giving Price good fielding support. The Wilmington hurler walked three and fanned three.

AND WILMINGTON'S bats boomed for eight hits, including a double for Halley. The visitors opened scoring in the third inning when they picked up an unearned run.

The big inning for Wilmington was the third when Tim Rud-dock was safe at first on a hit that dropped between the Circleville second sacker and rightfielder.

He scored on Jim Conners' well tagged single. Conners, the Hurricane lanky first baseman, was then driven in by Price's single.

An error and a base hit loaded the bases for Wilmington and a hit batsman forced in the final run of the frame.

The visitors added a pair of insurance runs in the top of the sixth.

Next action for the Tiger baseballers comes Friday at Washington C. H.

In other South Central Ohio League action yesterday, Miami Trace surprised Hillsboro by winning a 7-0 contest and Greenfield trounced Washington C. H., 16-5.

The league standings now finds Greenfield at the top with a 3-0 record. Hillsboro and Trace are tied for second with 2-1 records. Wilmington and Washington C. H. have 1-2 marks and Circleville is in the cellar with its 0-3 record.

4 Defending Champs Due A. Ohio State's Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A glittering array of runners and jumpers, including at least four defending champions, are booked for Ohio State's annual relays Saturday.

The usually bulky field has been cut to 600 for the classy carnival with seven Big Ten schools among the 22 colleges, 11 high schools and three track clubs scheduled to compete.

The 21-event program in Ohio Stadium gets underway with preliminaries in the morning with finals set to go at 12:40 p.m.

In addition to the trackmen who won here a year ago, nine Big Ten indoor champions also are entered.

Individual titlists include Ernie Soudek of the Ann Arbor Track Club, who won the Relays discus title with a throw of 184 feet, 7 inches and Al Carius of the Chicago Track Club, who captured last year's mile run. Carius also boasts the nation's best time this year in the steeplechase with an 8:48.7 clocking.

Jack Bachelor of Miami (Ohio), who won the steeplechase in the 1965 meet, is back again as is Hamilton Lipscomb of Central (Ohio) State, the 880 victor.

Other standouts include Dennis Holland, formerly of Western Michigan who looms as a threat in the triple jump; Darnell Mitchell, formerly of Ohio University and a strong half miler; Ken Anderson of Eastern Kentucky who has posted a 4:05 mile this year and his teammate, Wilbur Davis, who has pole vaulted 15 feet, 8 inches.

Big Ten indoor king Michigan State has a host of strong entries including Gene Washington in the hurdles; Mike Bowers, who has cleared 6-10 in the high jump; Keith Coates, an impressive miler and Jim Garrett, a fine dash man who won the big ten indoor long jump last year with a leap of 24 feet, 7 inches.

Central State's Martin McGrady, the world recordholder in the 600, heads up the Ma-rauder's strong relay team that topped the two-mile relay at last week's Ohio University relays.

Tribe Slugger Continues To Plague Yankees

Whitfield HR
Again Spells
Loss for Bombers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Johnny Keane supposedly has had a little talk with his New York Yankees. He might meet with more success if he had a long talk with Fred Whitfield.

Keane has minimized his meeting with the Yankees, but there was no way to minimize Whitfield's bat Wednesday night as the Cleveland first baseman continued his one-man assault on New York pitching by hammering a game-winning homer in the Indians' 4-2 victory.

Apparently upset at the Yankees' dismal start, Keane reportedly blasted the players in a behind-closed-doors meeting before the Cleveland series got underway. But he didn't place any special emphasis on the session.

Tuesday night, Whitfield provided all of Cleveland's runs with a homer in a 3-1 victory over New York, then Wednesday night he hit a two-run smash in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie and gave the unbeaten Indians their sixth victory.

Whitfield murdered Yankee pitching last year, hitting 10 of his 26 homers against New York, and his latest homers have nailed the Yankees into last place in the American League with a 1-7 record — the worst in either league.

Elsewhere, Baltimore rode the hitting of Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio to a 6-3 victory over Washington. Tony Conigliaro hit his first homer as Boston tripped Detroit 5-3 and California edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 11 innings. Minnesota and Kansas City were rained out.

In the National League, Atlanta walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The San Francisco-Chicago and St. Louis-New York games were rained out.

KIRK AND BUNK'S DREAM — McKinley Kirk, who will fill a race at the Pickaway County Harness Matinee Sunday, is shown here ready to train Bunk's Dream, a 3-year-old gelding by Harry's Dream and out of the dam, Flippy Guy. Kirk is using a breaking cart for an early morning workout at his training stable just east of New Holland.

McKinley Kirk Will Enter Six Pacers in Matinee

By STEVE JONES

One of Ohio's best known names in harness field will fill a race for the Pickaway County Harness Matinee Sunday with six pacers from his own stable.

McKinley Kirk is bringing Jacques C., Mr. President, Tatler, Duke C, Bunk's Dream and Grand Harry here. All will be entered in the second race — the second and fifth heats of the afternoon's card.

Posttime Sunday is 1:30 p.m. Kirk was born in New Holland and owns a 500-acre farm, complete with training track in Pickaway County.

HE CLAIMS Washington C.H., where he now lives, as his home. He is a member of the board of directors of the United States Trotting Assn.

John Fissell, Pickaway race secretary, notes that Kirk has always been a staunch supporter of racing in Pickaway County. He annually has entries in the fair and the Matinee here.

Kirk entered the sport of harness racing in 1942. He had lived in Florida for two years previous to that, decided he didn't like it and started home. On his way through Kentucky, he stopped at a horse sale and purchased his first harness horse.

Included in that initial purchase was Belle Mahone, the broodmare whose progeny have played such an important role in Kirk's success.

Kirk feels his best horse during the years is Great Pleasure, a 10-year-old trotting mare that has won $167,000 and is still racing. She has a record of 2:00.

THE FASTEST horse he has owned and trained is Times Square, a pacer that took a record of 1:58.1. Now owned by Eddie Kirk, Times Square is a grandson of Belle Mahone.

Another one of Kirk's horses with a good mark was Flaming Arrow, who paced the mile in 1:58.2. He has trained and owned nine horses that have broken the two minute barrier.

Kirk is training 22 of his own horses at his harness horse plant.

Harley Mace has Startena's Demon, a 7-year-old son of Steam-in Demon; Belle Butler, a 3-year-old pacer by Adios Butler and Surprise Visitor, a 2-year-old colt by Duke Yates.

Carl Britton is training Carla B, a 5-year-old bay pacing mare and Pearl B, a 5-year-old trotting mare at the track. The pacer has taken a record of 2:06.2 and the latter a mark of 2:09.4. Jim McWilliams is training Miss Jim Will at Kirk's track.

HEADING Kirk's current string of horses is, of course,

Great Pleasure, the 10-year-old daughter of Hodgen. Her dam is Pleasant Surprise.

Juanita C, a 5-year-old pacing daughter of Good Time and Natalie C, owns a record of 2:04. Jacques C, sired by Jimmie Mahone and out of the dam Edwina C, is a 4-year-old green horse in the stable.

Forever Special had a successful career as a 3-year-old last year, taking a record of 2:04. She was sired by Steam-in' Demon and her dam is Adios Special.

Another 4-year-old with a good record is Mite Dream. The bay gelding by Harry's Dream has paced the mile in 2:05.3.

Tattler, the promising son of Adios Butler and Millmite, set a record of 2:07 last year as a 2-year-old.

Rounding out the stable are Crisis, Duke C. Winsome Square, Harold's Filly, Bunk's Dream, Grand Harry, Astro-naut Butler, Beacon Light, Emily's Speedster, Hodgen Special, Mahone Butler, Rare Hodge, Wishful Heirress, Second Surprise and Nassau's Duke.

Elliotts Winners In Pin Event

Dallas and Ruth Elliott won top honors in the second annual Knights of Columbus Mixed Couples Bowling tournament at Circle D Lanes.

The Elliotts rolled a 1278 series, with handicap. Dallas Elliott also won top individual honors with a 291 single and a 736 series.

In the women's class, Stelle O'Hara won top individual honors with a 219 single and a 629 series.

In the team events, second place went to Jim and Linda McConnell, third to Fiske and Stelle O'Hara, fourth to Steve and Jean Brudzinski and fifth to Bill and Norman Jean Rich.

Vikings Stop Falcons in Metro Loop

Bill Dore' Gains
2nd Win with 5-3
Decision over FHHS

Teays Valley rolled to a 5-3 decision over Franklin Heights Wednesday on the losers' diamond in a Metropolitan League baseball game.

It marked the second league win for the Vikings who now have posted four victories in five starts.

Franklin Heights is 1-1 in the league. Bill Dore' was the winning hurler. He went the route for the winners. Breezing a third strike past six batters and walking only one. He allowed five hits.

It marked the second win for Dore' in as many starts this season — both in the Metro League.

Dave Cook was the leading hitter in the Teays Valley attack, cracking a double and a single and driving in one run. Butch Kinsell batted in a run and Bill Dore' helped his own cause with two RBIs on a second inning single.

Sherman Griffith was the leading hitter for the Falcons, going two-for-three at the plate. The Falcons used a trio of hurlers in the tilt. They were Landes, Malone and Pless.

Westfall Clips A-C Aces, 4-2

Westfall defeated visiting Amanda - Clearcreek, 4-2, yesterday behind the two-hit pitching performance by Neil Coleman.

The Aces scored both their runs in the first inning. An error and a homerun by Phil Smith accounted for the tallies.

Coleman fanned 10 and walked three. Smith fanned 12, gave up three walks and was touched for four hits. The Aces had five stolen bases and the Mustangs eight.

WESTFALL'S big inning was in the third when Coleman led off with a single. Tom Hamman was walked and Rod Stapleton blasted a triple. Stapleton then scored on a passed ball.

In the fourth frame Richard Mason cracked a triple, then stole home to end the scoring. The next game for Westfall is scheduled 1 p. m. Saturday at Zane Trace High School.

Wilmington Unit Hands CHS 3rd Loss in SCO Loop

Wilmington's Cliff Price, a senior righthander, spun a masterful one-hit shutout over the Circleville High School baseball team Wednesday at Ted Lewis Park as the Hurricane romped to a 7-0 decision.

It was the first win of the season for the visiting Clinton County team. It was the fifth loss in as many starts for Chuck Hill's nine.

The Tigers were unable to solve Price's assortment of curves and changeups and could not get the clean hits.

Wilmington played alertly on defense, giving Price good fielding support. The Wilmington hurler walked three and fanned three.

AND WILMINGTON'S bats boomed for eight hits, including a double for Halley. The visitors opened scoring in the third inning when they picked up an unearned run.

The big inning for Wilmington was the third when Tim Rud-dock was safe at first on a hit that dropped between the Circleville second sacker and rightfielder.

Teays Golfers Post Wins

Teays Valley's golf squad picked up a pair of wins this week, defeating Miami Trace, 7-2, Tuesday and Reynoldsburg, 9 1/2-1 1/2, on Wednesday. Both matches were played at Upper Lansdowne.

In Tuesday's match, Joe Leatherwood, the Viking No. 3 man, was medalist. He carded a 39, his best score of the season.

On Wednesday, No. 1 golfer Ron Leatherwood shot a 40 on the par 36 Lansdowne course.

Other scores yesterday were Mike Binion, 45; Joe Leatherwood, 46; Mark Leatherwood, 44; Jim Ritchie, 54.

The Vikings host Circleville High School's golf team tonight at Upper Lansdowne.

He scored on Jim Conners' well tagged single. Conners, the Hurricane lanky first baseman, was then driven in by Price's single.

An error and a base hit loaded the bases for Wilmington and a hit batsman forced in the final run of the frame.

The visitors added a pair of insurance runs in the top of the sixth.

Next action for the Tiger baseballers comes Friday at Washington C. H.

In other South Central Ohio League action yesterday, Miami Trace surprised Hillsboro by winning a 7-0 contest and Greenfield trounced Washington C. H., 16-5.

The league standings now finds Greenfield at the top with a 3-0 record. Hillsboro and Trace are tied for second with 2-1 records, Wilmington and Washington C. H. have 1-2 marks and Circleville is in the cellar with its 0-3 record.

Redleg Losing Streak Continues

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds came close to ending their losing streak Wednesday night. But close doesn't count.

The Reds dropped their fourth straight game, losing 3-2 to the Pittsburgh Pirates when Jose Pagan's pinch hit sacrifice fly with the bases loaded knocked in the winning run in the last of the ninth.

It was only the second time Pagan has batted against the Reds this season, but both times he's brought victory to the Pirates. Monday night, his two-run pinch double beat Cincinnati 4-3.

Sanders, Brewer Favored in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The $85,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament begins today with its finest field despite the absence of such big names as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer, hottest players on the tour and ranking No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in money - winnings, are the cofavorites.

And if either wins the $15,000 first money it will mean the Dallas contingent has come through. Eleven pros from Dallas are in the field of 145, and Brewer and Sanders are among them.

Ohio Women Out of Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — The Women's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament moved into today's semifinals with the Ohio entrants eliminated. The last Buckeye survivor, Bonnie Sue Andrie of Mogadore, lost to Mrs. Horton Semple 1 up, in the third round.

Miss Andrie lost Wednesday after winning a second round match from Mrs. J. Albert Hayes, 1 up on 19 holes in the morning. Judy Rand of Aurora bowed to Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms 2 and 1, while Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth fell before Mrs. Helen Sigel Wilson 4 and 3 in the second round.

OSU Favored in Big Ten Baseball Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Defending champion Ohio State again is tabbed as the team to beat as the 71st Big Ten baseball championship race opens Friday.

Coaches in picking the Buckeyes to repeat also like Michigan and Michigan State as main contenders.

It won't take long for the title chase to shake down because Ohio State, with a 13-4 pre-season record, is at MSU (11-8-1) for a single game Friday and

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, April 21, the 111th day of 1966. There are 254 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, the United States recognized the independence of Cuba.

On this date
In 1836, Gen. Sam Houston and his army of Texans won a historic victory in the Battle of San Jacinto.

In 1910, Mark Twain, the famous American humorist, died.

In 1941, British battleships bombarded the port of Tripoli.

In 1942, the first communique was issued from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in the Southwest Pacific.

In 1944, the United States bombers raided Bucharest, the capital of Romania.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower called on Soviet leaders to right the wrongs of Joseph Stalin against other nations.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced that the first project of the new Peace Corps would be to help local technicians plan and build roads in Tanganyika.

One year ago — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba proposed that the Arab-Israeli dispute be settled on the basis of a U.N. partition plan put forward in 1947.

Police Guarding Lawyers in Moors Murder Trial

CHESTER, England (AP) — Police guarded defense lawyers in the Moors murder trial today and midwives were on hand to keep watch over a pregnant witness as she testified.

Fearing that passions aroused by the sensational trial might lead to violence, guards were posted at the homes of lawyers Emlyn Hooson and Godfrey Heilpern and at the home of Heilpern's mother.

The precautions were taken following the murder of Heilpern's sister-in-law, Rachel Heilpern, 53. Her body was found Tuesday night at the dress shop she managed 30 miles from Chester. She had been stabbed through the heart.

Detective Supt. Wilfred Cunliffe said so far there was nothing to indicate the murder was connected with the Moors trial, "but in a murder investigation one cannot rule out anything."

Three police midwives were on duty for the resumption of the trial today. The court was to hear more testimony from Maureen Smith, 19, who expects a baby at any time.

Mrs. Smith is the sister of Myra Hindley, 23, who with her lover, Ian Brady, 27, is charged with the murder of three children for thrills.

Mrs. Smith, wearing a gray tweed coat and a maternity smock, faced her sister and Brady Wednesday as she testified for about 30 minutes. Atty.

18 Ohio Areas Due For Power Rate Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission has accepted a wholesale electric reduction proposed by Ohio Edison Co., Akron, for 18 Ohio municipalities.

The reduction, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1965, runs about 9.1 per cent, amounting to $456,118, and covers Amherst, Beach City, Brewster, Columbiana, Cuyahoga Falls, Galion, Grafton, Hubbard, Hudson, Lodi, Lucas, Milan, Monroeville, Niles, Seville, Vienna, Wadsworth and Wellington.

Ohio Postmastership Nominations Are Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio postmaster nominations were sent to the Senate Wednesday by President Johnson — Lewis E. Wiggins, Milford, Hamilton County, and James M. Soulsby, Pomeroy.

Gen. Sir Elwyn Jones had interrupted his outline of the prosecution case to bring her to the witness stand because of the advanced state of her pregnancy.

Earlier Jones told the all-male jury that Miss Hindley, a stenographer, and Brady, a clerk, enticed 10-year old Lesley Ann Downey into a house and subjected her to "atmost indignities" before she was killed.

Jones said that among Brady's possessions were photographs of Lesley Ann naked. Her nude body and the body of John Kilbride, 12, were found last fall buried on the wild penine moors. Jones said the boy was subjected to sexual indignities shortly before he was killed.

Jones said the trousers and underwear of the third victim, Edward Evans, 17, had been disturbed before he was hacked with an ax and strangled.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, April 21, the 111th day of 1966. There are 254 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, the United States recognized the independence of Cuba.

On this date

In 1836, Gen. Sam Houston and his army of Texans won a historic victory in the Battle of San Jacinto.

In 1910, Mark Twain, the famous American humorist, died.

In 1941, British battleships bombarded the port of Tripoli.

In 1942, the first communique was issued from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in the Southwest Pacific.

In 1944, the United States bombers raided Bucharest, the capital of Romania.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower called on Soviet leaders to right the wrongs of Joseph Stalin against other nations.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced that the first project of the new Peace Corps would be to help local technicians plan and build roads in Tanganyika.

One year ago—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba proposed that the Arab-Israeli dispute be settled on the basis of a U.N. partition plan put forward in 1947.

Police Guarding Lawyers in Moors Murder Trial

CHESTER, England (AP) — Police guarded defense lawyers in the Moors murder trial today and midwives were on hand to keep watch over a pregnant witness as she testified.

Fearing that passions aroused by the sensational trial might lead to violence, guards were posted at the homes of lawyers Emlyn Hooson and Godfrey Heilpern and at the home of Heilpern's mother.
